Astronaut Gave Nation Great Day and Great Lift, He Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gordon Cooper, the unruffled 22-orbit astronaut, came to the capital today and received the honors and unstinting accolades of President Kennedy and an admiring nation.

Kennedy bestowed the NASA Distinguished Service Medal on the man who has achieved America's greatest conquest of space.

"You have given the country a great day and a great lift," Kennedy said.

About all Cooper could manage was a smile and a word of thanks

NATO Leaders In Ottawa for Nuclear Talks

Prepared to Give Formal Approval To Compromise

OTTAWA (AP)—Statesmen of the 15 Atlantic pact powers gathered in Ottawa today to give formal approval to a compromise formula—approved by President Charles de Gaulle—permitting the formation of an allied nuclear force.

Delegates of France and several other countries said the formula would be set forth in the final communiqué of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's spring meeting of foreign and defense ministers. The three-day meeting opens Wednesday.

The formula leaves the force nameless and without a command structure of its own. The French said they would block the project if it was portrayed as something new, or extraordinary, or implying fresh commitments.

Major Provisions

The conference communiqué reportedly will say that:

1. Britain is assigning her entire 180-plane V-bomber force, complete with hydrogen bombs, to U.S. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe.
2. The United States is assigning three nuclear-powered submarines, armed with Polaris missiles, to Lemnitzer.
3. These forces will augment tactical strike forces with a nuclear capacity.
4. Other actions are to be taken to improve liaison on nuclear weapons policy between all members of the alliance.

A British delegate observed: "Gen. De Gaulle has decreed that this baby shall be nameless. Still it's hard for him to deny that it is a baby."

A Senior French official saw it another way:

"The assignment of American and British nuclear strike forces to SACEUR is just a bookkeeping operation, changing nothing. "In a war they would have been available anyway.

"Giving them a name isn't going to make the Russians more frightened."

Referendum on Wheat May Have Record Balloting

WASHINGTON (AP) — It's decision day in the great wheat plan controversy.

After weeks of hot debate, record numbers of farmers—possibly more than 1.5 million—are expected to vote today on a plan to curb wheat production.

Their decision may cast the future of government farm programs, and their costs.

In a nutshell the question is whether wheat farmers want rigid controls and high price supports or no controls and low price supports.

And the referendum's outcome, after the biggest campaign ever waged among farmers, was expected to have widespread economic and political repercussions.

Outlook Brightens At Tariff Parley

U. S. and Common Market Delegates Virtually Agreed

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. and Common Market delegates said today they had reached virtual agreement on how to cut trade barriers in the Western world. A mood of optimism soared over the tariff conference which had been on the verge of failure.

The American delegation gave much of the credit to West German Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard who reportedly has been sticking up for American ideas in arguments with his Common Market partners.

A U.S. source said Washington has agreed to the European demand that some special rule be adopted for reducing American tariffs which are, in general, higher than European ones.

Smaller Differences

"So the differences between us now are small," said French Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing.

There was hope the conference, which began Thursday, would end today with adoption of a system of tariff negotiations by the conference of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The European counter-proposal followed a transatlantic telephone intervention by President Kennedy in an attempt to break the stalemate at the 73-nation ministerial conference sponsored by the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The stalemate posed a grave threat to Kennedy's Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which previously had promised to be one of the major achievements of his administration.

The Common Market proposal was being submitted to Christian A. Herter, Kennedy's chief negotiator.

Proposal Not Disclosed

The Europeans refused to disclose the content of their proposal. American delegates had been annoyed Monday when another compromise offer was outlined to newsmen before it reached them.

The GATT conference was called in an attempt to agree on a tariff-cutting formula that would be worked out in detail at the negotiations scheduled to start next year.

The United States proposed uniform, across-the-board reductions of rates applied to all nations. The U.S. Trade Expansion Act provides that they can run as high as 50 per cent.

Worker Falls in Sand Hopper, Dies

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A worker at the International Harvester Co. plant died today when he became trapped in a huge hopper of sand.

The victim, Clayton Lewis, 43, was pronounced dead at Milwaukee Hospital.

A fellow worker found Lewis' feet dangling below the 3 x 3 foot opening at the bottom of the hopper. His head was buried by about three feet of sand.

Authorities said Lewis worked at the top of the hopper and apparently fell in while trying to free stuck sand.

New Demonstrations Forecast

Negroes Expect to Increase Sit-ins As Result of High Court's Decision

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro sit-in activity will increase as a result of the Supreme Court's decision on sit-in demonstrations, says a top attorney for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, associate counsel of the NAACP's legal defense fund, told a news conference in New York Monday the decision would increase the desire of Negroes to be served in restaurants and other establishments.

Sees More Activity

She said this would lead to many more demonstrations throughout the nation.

The court ruled Monday that a state or city may not interfere in any fashion, with peaceful sit-in demonstrations in public places of business. However, the court did not draw a clear line of when a shopkeeper may on his own refuse to serve Negroes or call police to have them evicted from his property.

Mrs. Motley later told a mass rally of Negroes in Birmingham, Ala., that the decision would clear about 300 students convicted in Southern sit-ins. She said the decision left Birmingham department store owners "free to serve Negroes on the same basis as other citizens."

"I think the decision was as great as the Supreme Court decision in the school cases," she said.

The court threw out convictions of lunch counter sit-in demonstrators in Alabama, Louisiana, North Carolina and South Carolina, and declared it unconstitutional for a state to require segregation and use its powers to enforce it.

Commissioner - Mayor Arthur Hanes of Birmingham, scene of recent sit-ins and mass desegregation demonstrations, said he had not read the decision, but added, "I feel it's going a little far afield."

"It seems to me that any person in business does not now have that old traditional right to refuse service to anyone he desires," Hanes said. "It seems that all bars are lowered."

Affects Everyone

Floyd McKissick, a Durham, N.C., attorney who successfully appealed the convictions of seven antisegregation demonstrators to the high court, said the decision overturning the convictions "is far more important than the 1954 school segregation decision."

McKissick said the court's action "will strike at the evils of segregation and discrimination" far more strongly than the 1954 decision which ruled separate but

15 Records Claimed for Kennedy Jet

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's jet airliner completed a nonstop flight from Moscow to Washington today claiming 15 speed records.

The Air Force Boeing 707 flew the 5,004 miles in 9 hours 53 minutes and 52 seconds.

The $10 million jet landed in rain at 4:09 a.m. at nearby Andrews Air Force Base, Md., the point from which it started the Moscow round trip Saturday.

The plane made the flight to Moscow in 8 hours 38 minutes and 42 seconds—the fastest flight in either direction between the United States and Russia.

505.8-Mile Average

The average speed for the flight from Moscow to Washington was 505.8 mph. The flight to Moscow averaged 580 mph.

The ship, flown by Col. James B. Swindal, brought back two officials of the National Aeronautics Association, Dr. Robert B. Dillaway, Woodland Hills, Calif., and Clyde Barnett, Los Angeles, California state aeronautics commissioner.

The record attempt was arranged by the NAA after considerable negotiation with the Russians. Soviet officials were reluctant to permit the United States to claim new marks for the route since they have been complaining that the United States is opposing the establishment of commercial air services between the two countries.

Firemen's Job Issue Topic at Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—The railroad and five operating unions take up the key question today of eliminating the jobs of locomotive firemen in a last ditch effort to settle their work rules fight before a June 12 strike deadline.

A new round of negotiations began with a two-hour session Monday, mainly devoted to laying down guidelines for future sessions, which may go on for several weeks.

Both sides agreed to go to work first on the question of removing firemen from freight and yard trains.

This is the central issue in the dispute over work rules. It involves the jobs of some 40,000 firemen a presidential commission said last year weren't needed.

If agreement can be reached on this point, other issues probably can be cleared up promptly.

American Legion Won't Meet in New Orleans

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Segregation problems caused cancellation Monday of plans to hold the American Legion's 1963 national convention in New Orleans.

The legion's executive committee faced the task of finding a new site for the convention, which had been set for Sept. 6-12.

Louisiana legionnaires withdrew their invitation because of inability to guarantee unsegregated facilities for delegates.

Fox Valley Area Has Big Part In Program

Many Projects in Area Included in Governor's Plans

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Problems of traffic movement in his native Fox River Valley figured prominently in the "crash" program of main line highway construction recommended to the Legislature today by Gov. Reynolds.

In the boldest and biggest program for highway building ever proposed by a Wisconsin governor, Reynolds asked for these projects to facilitate motor vehicle traffic into, from and through the valley:

1. Construction of a freeway at a cost of about twenty million from the West Brown County line to Suamico, including the Green Bay belt-line to complete the four lane divided construction of Highway 41 from Milwaukee past Green Bay.
2. Construction of a second phase of the Lake Butte des Morts bridge on Highway 41 in Winnebago County, which is the only section of Highway 41 south of the Brown County line that is not now four lanes.
3. Construction of Highway 141 from the Milwaukee County line to the junction with Highway 57 in Ozaukee County to freeway standards, "thus permitting travel on divided highways all the way from Chicago around Milwaukee into northeastern Wisconsin," as the governor put it.
4. Early completion of the west Expressway in Milwaukee County to join with Highway 41, to permit non-stop traffic from Chicago to the Fox River Valley.

Urges Group Which Can Borrow $360 Million; New Auto, Truck License Fees

MADISON (AP) — A joint session of the Legislature heard Gov. John W. Reynolds unveil today a $500 million program for completing seven years of highway construction in two.

The proposal, labeled "Project 66," would build 502 miles of interstate and other 4-lane highways by the end of 1966 instead of the present planned 88 miles.

There are two keys to the program outlined by Reynolds:

- Formation of a Wisconsin Freeway Development Commission with authority to borrow some $360 million.
- Increased auto and truck license fees to bring in an additional $15 million annually.

Concentrating these funds on the interstate and other 4-lane systems would free some $100 million now earmarked for the purpose which would be used on 93 other projects scattered throughout the state, Reynolds said.

In his detailed presentation, Reynolds outlined these objectives for "Project 66":

- Completion of the interstate system by 1966, much of it in 1964-65.
- 4-Lane Highway

Completion of the Milwaukee Expressway system except for the central interchange and North-South expressway, which will be finished in 1967.

Negroes Fight Expulsion of 1,000 Pupils

Say They Will Go To U. S. Court to Void Board's Order

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders say they will go to federal court in efforts to void a Birmingham school board order to expel or suspend more than 1,000 Negro pupils who demonstrated against segregation.

The school board's action Monday was not unexpected, and Negro leaders said they planned to fight the move only by legal means.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said on his return from Atlanta. "We will not call for a mass walkout or boycott of the schools, nor will we call for a renewal of demonstrations at this point."

No "Unwise Act"

After a meeting with other integration leaders, King said, "We will not seek to correct an unwise act by moving hastily into another unwise act."

The decision by the Negro leaders saved a shaky biracial agreement which had been threatened by the school board's handling of the dispute.

"We know there are certain forces in Birmingham trying to sabotage this agreement," King said.

He called the board's action "a tragic move, immoral . . . a dastardly act."

In a letter to school principals, Supt. Theo Wright ordered immediate expulsion of pupil participants over 16 and suspension of those under 16. It affects 1,081 pupils arrested in protest marches over the past several weeks.

A school board spokesman said the action was in keeping with the board's policy on truancy.

Zoo Attendant Killed While in Cage With Lion

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A lion mangled an attendant today in a cage at Ross Park Zoo. Police shot the lion as it clung to the lifeless body.

Two lions were in the cage with the attendant, Guy E. Carey, 43, but zoo officials absolved the timid female lion, Tina, and blamed the unruly male, Timba. Tina merely covered when police arrived.

Police saw little possibility that Carey had died naturally before being attacked.

A relief attendant, Ralph Landis, found the body and the lions when he arrived at 5:30 a.m.

Police said all the doors in the four-part cage were closed, which seemed unusual. Normally, both lions would have been put in one section and barred in, while the attendant cleaned the rest of the cage. Carey, however, was in the section with both lions.

The hose he had been using was still running in another section.

Timba has been a trouble-maker. He had escaped from the cage a couple of times and once wrecked an office on the grounds. Each time he was caught on the grounds.

Higher License Fees

The proposed increase in the present $16 annual auto registration fee would be based on age of the car.

An auto three years old or less would pay $9 additional each year; four to six years old $7; seven to nine years old, $5; nine to 12 years old, $3; and 13 years old or more, $1. This would add $8 million a year to highway funds.

Boosts on Trucks

Truck owners would get fee increases averaging 33 per cent, which would raise an additional $7 million. The added fees would range from $4 for the smallest trucks to $312 for the largest, while increase for milk trucks would range from $4 to $192.

Reynolds proposed $911 million of short-term borrowing at two to three per cent interest to complete the Interstate Highway system, pledging the federal government's share of 90 per cent of construction costs to pay off the borrowing.

To construct additional divided highways, Reynolds proposed issuing of $170 million in 22-year bonds at three to four per cent interest, secured by $13.5 million a year of the auto-truck license fee increase.

Reynolds also proposed reimbursing Milwaukee County $1.5 million a year for the share of the Interstate it has assumed. He said no other county has assumed the 10 per cent portion of interstate costs and that Milwaukee should be reimbursed as a matter of equity.

5-Member Commission

At the heart of the "Project 66," directing the financing, planning and construction, would be a five-member Wisconsin Freeway Development Commission composed of the governor, the chairman of the two legislative highway committees, the chairman of the State Highway Commission and a citizen member.

For the financing, the Freeway Commission would form a corporation to borrow the money. Money for repaying the loans would come from a leasing arrangement in which the Highway Commission would pay to the Freeway Commission a yearly "rental" of the federal money received for the interstate system and $13.5 million from the increased auto-truck license fees.

At the end of 1972 for the Interstate and 1986 for the Freeways, the new roads would be turned over to the state debt free.

Reynolds said benefits from the program would be greater than merely having good roads. The program would generate $1.5 billion of business related to construction, he said, and would attract tourists who otherwise will go to states with highways that can handle them. Not only tourism, but all other businesses and industries that rely on highways will benefit, he said, and beyond that is the savings in lives from lowered accident rates on such modern highways.

Advocates Borrowing

Reynolds said that 40 states finance their highways through bond issues.

"We have buried our heads in the potholes of patched concrete and asphalt, refusing to admit that fast, safe, easy transportation for recreation and industry is an absolute necessity for a state wishing to remain competitive," Reynolds told the legislators.

"To do this, we will have to work day and night, borrow money against funds pledged to us by the federal government...and raise our registration fees from their present low figure to one adequate to guarantee that our roads are as modern as our autos."

"The problem is severe enough, the advantages clear enough, and our abilities great enough to warrant this effort," Reynolds said.

"Our construction industry is using only half of its potential on our present program. We have the tools and the manpower to work two shifts a day, and we have the money and the borrowing power to finance this absolutely vital effort. We need only the will."

Reynolds told reporters that legislation to implement the suggested program would have to be passed within six weeks for it to meet the 1966 deadline.

Russian Textile Thieves Will Die

MOSCOW (AP)—Two officials of an Uzbekistan textile factory were sentenced to death for large-scale thefts of raw materials, reports reaching here from Tashkent said Monday.

The two were identified as Chief Engineer Gafarov and Shop Foreman Kaufman of the Kyzyl Yulduz Textile Mills, Tashkent.

The newspaper Pravda of the East said 11 other defendants, some with Jewish names, were given prison sentences.

equal public schools unconstitutional.

"I think it will ultimately affect the total population, while the school decision affected only the school children," he said.

Mayor Ivan Allen Jr. of Atlanta said the courts have been moving toward elimination of any form of discrimination in public or semipublic places. He said the decision is another step in that direction.

There was no immediate comment from Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama. Georgia Gov. Carl Sanders said, "I have no comment at all."

Mayor Asa D. Kelley Jr. of Albany, Ga., which has been a target of desegregation activities for 18 months, said the decision has no effect on his city.

Can Choose Customer

"We have no laws requiring segregation," Kelley said. "We anticipated this court decision. Even the Supreme Court would agree that a man has a right to choose his customers and clients." Freeman Leverett, deputy assistant attorney general of Georgia, who has specialized in racial litigation, said Georgia has no state laws requiring segregation of eating facilities and therefore is not affected by the ruling.

Negro leaders were gratified at the decision. The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. said the decision is of "monumental significance to the nonviolent movement across the South."

"The decision is precedential in that ordinances requiring separation of the races at eating facilities are now null and void. This means specifically that people may not be excluded from lunch counters on the basis of a city ordinance or statute requiring segregation."

Birmingham Cases

King added that "the parallel significance... is that the trespass convictions of demonstrators have been declared unconstitutional and will affect many of the cases now pending in Birmingham and cities across the South."

The decision involves a group which had been convicted in Birmingham under a city antire-

English Textile Magnate Makes Children Rich

MANCHESTER, England (AP)—The school-age children of a Manchester textile magnate became millionaires Monday through a deal carried out by their father.

Michael Miller sold the family clothing companies to chain store, Isac Wolfson for 4,325,000 pounds ($12,110,000). The companies' 900,000 shares were held by Carol Miller, 15, and her brother Stephen, 12. The money will be held in trust for them and they will not have to pay inheritance taxes on it.

Other Projects

The Reynolds program also included a host of ordinary state highway reconstruction and improvement projects that would be pushed up on the construction schedule, if the high fund advances he is proposing are approved by the legislature.

They would not be earmarked in the law, as would the freeway projects. Among such "suggested" advancements of projects would be these of importance in the valley, according to the governor:

A Highway 10 relocation at Wausau; improvement of Highway 47 between Appleton and Black Creek and a relocation of Highway 45 between New London and Hortonville; Highway 41 from Abrams to Oconto; Highway 42 from Alaska Lake to Algoma.

Highway 55 from Keshena northward; and Highway 29 from Witlenberg to Tilleda.

northward is already budgeted by the State Highway Department, under present financing arrangements, but the completion of the Green Bay belt-line has not yet been fixed in time.

"It is in limbo," said Chairman Harvey Grasse of the Highway Department, as he sat with the governor at a news briefing last night.

Under the bonding and taxing program Reynolds offered to the legislature, as he explained it, the completion would be assured by the end of 1965.

The Butte des Morts bridge addition would be finished by 1966.

Routes to Northeast

The Milwaukee expressway links with the routes in to northeast. Wisconsin would also be completed by 1966, the governor said.

As the governor described his vision of a super-highway network, the Highway 41 freeway in Brown County could ultimately be joined with an extension of the interstate highway system northward from Milwaukee along the Lake Michigan shore, crossing the Fox River to swing westward and northward into the Wisconsin tourist country.

But the governor conceded, in response to questions, that there is yet no tangible assurance that the interstate additions asked of the national government by the state administration will be granted.

Other Projects

The Reynolds program also included a host of ordinary state highway reconstruction and improvement projects that would be pushed up on the construction schedule, if the high fund advances he is proposing are approved by the legislature.

Congress and a motorcade up the glory road from the White House to Capitol Hill.

Officials scheduled the day's highlight for the White House rose garden where President Kennedy will pin the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's Distinguished Service Medal on the 36-year-old pilot who flew around the earth more times than any other American.

The Weather Bureau predicted a cool, cloudy day, far better than the day more than a year ago when a pouring rain drenched 200,000 to 300,000 spectators as they watched Astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. on his motorcade up Pennsylvania Avenue.

After the ceremonies, the President planned a 10-minute private chat with the astronaut in the presidential office.

Among the officials invited to watch the medal-pinning ceremonies were Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, Secretary of Commerce Luther H. Hodges, Chief Justice Earl Warren, and Gen. Maxwell Taylor, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A 20-car motorcade to Capitol Hill will follow the White House ceremonies, and officials assured a huge turnout by releasing school children from classes and letting government workers take a long lunch hour.

After the speech to Congress, Cooper will be the guest of a luncheon in the State Department. His hosts will be Vice President Johnson and James E. Webb, NASA administrator.

The Coopers fly to New York Wednesday morning for a ticker-tape parade up Broadway.

Crandall, Torre May Alternate At First Base

Braves to Open Series Against Redlegs Tonight

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee Braves Manager Robby Bragan may start alternating two of his catchers, veteran Del Crandall and young Joe Torre at first base when the club faces left-handed pitchers.

The Milwaukee boys also said Monday that he plans to shift his line-up and put Torre in the clean-up spot against southpaws. Eddie Mathews has been hitting in the No. 4 spot.

Crandall will be the No. 1 catcher most of the time, Bragan said, "because he has had a little better luck with our pitchers and he's coming around with the bat."

Making a first baseman out of Torre would create a situation the opposite of what has been in effect much of the season. Crandall has been playing first base occasionally and doing a good job there while Torre has been catching well and doing a fine job at hitting.

"I don't really like to change this often," Bragan said, "but at the same time I've got to do something about our record against left handers. (The Braves have lost 9 of 11 to southpaws this year.)

"That why I may put Torre on first. He played there in high school and he has been working out there in the second infield.

"I hate to shift a man with a future like his, but I'd like to keep his bat in the line-up."

The 22-year-old Torre is batting an even .300 in 100 times at bat. Crandall's average is only .210 in 62 times at bat but he usually is a slow starter. He finished last season with a .297 in 107 games.

Discussing his batting rotation change, Bragan said he wanted to continue to have Hank Aaron, the team's batting leader with a .336 mark, in the No. 3 spot so that he could hit in the first inning.

He added:

"I am shifting Mathews to No. 2 for the same reason—so he can come up, too. Torre will give me that added power in the No. 4 slot. Joe, a strong hitter, can poke the long ball, too.

"I'd rather not put Torre in the second spot, because Mathews is much the faster of the two and can do a better job of avoiding the double play."

Terror, North, South Expected to Battle For FRVC Relays Title

Appleton High School's Terrors are expected to battle it out with the two Sheboygan schools for the title in tonight's colorful Fox River Valley Conference track and field relays in Fond du Lac.

The Terrors, who have been garnering titles with great consistency this spring, go after their fourth straight success in meets that involve four or more schools. AHS has already predominated in the FRVC indoor meet, the Permakerm relays and the Green Bay sectional. Each time, the Terrors improved upon their 1962 performance.

Last year, AHS finished third in the FRVC relays. Manitowoc took the crown, with Sheboygan South second. South and North took charge of the Port Washington sectional last Friday.

In the last two FRVC relays, Appleton has taken only one first each time. In 1961, the AHS high-jumping trio took that event. (One of participants that year, Mike Wehler, will be back tonight.) Last year, the Terrors won the 4-mile relay — in record time.

Ralph (Sparky) Sanders fired the first hole-in-1 of the Reid Municipal Golf course season Monday.

Playing in the Power Company League, Sanders holed out his 7-iron tee shot on the 145-yard 17th hole. Others playing in the group were Clem Sullivan and Bob Ochiltree Jr., and Sr.

OSC Sweeps Pair From Stout Nine

MENOMINEE — Oshkosh State College swept both ends of a doubleheader with Stout Monday. The Titans took the first game, 6-2, and then bombarded Stout for a 21-0 win in the second contest.

Indians Duel Waupaca

MANAWA — Clintonville High School edged Manawa, 4-3, and Weyauwega topped Marion, 4-1, in the Manawa WIAA District Baseball tournament here Monday.

Weyauwega is slated to tangle with Waupaca tonight. The winner meets Clintonville Thursday.

Bill Melzer doubled home Dick Thompson, who had walked, with the winning run in the top half of the ninth inning for the Truckers. Pete Smith was the winning hurler. He had four strikeouts and four bases-on-balls.

Frank Leischow started for Manawa but failed to last the first inning, and Jim Buschke finished up.

Manawa's Dick Bugarske drove in a pair of runs in the fourth with a double. Dan Steinbach also banged a 2-bagger for the Wolves.

Gene Montgomery's single was the key blow for Weyauwega in a 3-run sixth inning. Two errors and a hit batsman also aided the Indians cause.

Orioles' Pappas and Colts' Drott Pitch Shutout Wins

Baltimore and White Sox Tie For AL Lead

BY MIKE RATHER
Associated Press Sports Writer

Milt Pappas and Dick Drott, pitcher in two different worlds, but both are students of the same school.

Pappas, 24-year-old Baltimore right-hander who earned his Paul Richards diploma a few years back, and Drott, a 26-year-old Houston right-hander who graduated from the Paul Richards school only recently, came up with outstanding pitching performances Monday night.

Pappas limited Detroit to five hits, pitching Baltimore into a tie for the American League lead by blanking the Tigers 6-0. Drott checked Pittsburgh on the same amount of hits as Houston defeated the Pirates 2-0 in the only National League game scheduled.

In the other AL games, Chicago's White Sox moved up into the top spot with the Orioles by edging Washington 5-4. Minnesota dropped Boston from first to fourth by downing the Red Sox 6-5 and Cleveland whipped the Los Angeles Angels 7-5. New York and Kansas City were idle.

Second Shutout

Pappas, a Richards protege when the master manipulator of pitchers was manager at Baltimore, recorded his second shutout of the season and his fourth complete game in bringing his record to 4-0. He struck out seven and lowered his earned run average to an amazing 1.17.

The Orioles, meanwhile, backed him with four homers that provided all the runs for their sixth victory in the last seven games. Jack Bland and Boog Powell each hit two-run homers while Jim Gentile and Jerry Adair connected for solo shots that tagged Tigers' starter Phil Regan with his fifth defeat in seven decisions.

Drott, a Richards reclamation project now that he's the Colts' general manager, surprised teacher even more, pitching his first complete game in 23 starts over four years—since June 14, 1959. And it followed by only three days.

17-Year-Old Prep Football Player Dies at Practice

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Robert Neil Kirby, 17-year-old honor student at Miami High School, collapsed and died on the football practice field Monday.

Kirby, a junior, played left end and had just made the varsity squad. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Kirby of Miami.

Vince Schaefer, one of the coaches, said Kirby ran out about 15 yards on a pass play but there was no body contact. He was walking back when he collapsed.

Kirby was pronounced dead on arrival at Jackson Memorial Hospital. An autopsy was ordered to determine the cause of death.

Foxes Launch Home Stand After Losing to Waterloo

Hawks Snap 3-3 Tie in Fifth Inning

WATERLOO, Ia. — The Fox Cities Foxes return home today to face the high-flying Clinton C-Sox after having their 3-game win skein snapped by Waterloo, 6-3 in a Midwest League encounter here Monday night.

Waterloo broke away from a 3-3 game by scoring three times in the fifth inning.

Tonight's 8 p.m. game at Goodland Field will be the opener of a 7-game home stand for the Foxes. Tom Fisher will be the Foxes' starter.

Bernie Van Remmen was the victim of the Waterloo outburst in the fifth that brought the victory. With one out, Bob Montgomery drew a walk and Tony Horton slapped his second double of the game to put runners at second and third.

Joe Verdon was given an intentional walk to set up a double play possibility, but the strategy backfired as Dick Mattern dropped a Texas League single to right-center that scored Montgomery and left the bases still jammed. Bob Livingston, who had poled a long homer over the center field fence for Waterloo in the second inning, lined a clean single to right that scored two more for the winners.

The Foxes threatened in the ninth by leading the bases, but Jim Thornton came in to relieve Gene King and got the side out. King picked up the win, his first decision.

Waterloo scored twice in the first inning when Chris Coletta tripled, Montgomery walked and Horton doubled.

The Foxes started to nip at the lead by scoring a single run in the second when Bill Shirah walked, got to third on a pair of infield outs and scored on an error.

Another run crossed the plate for the Foxes in the third when Donnie Nichols singled and Charley Aikens singled. On a double HORTONVILLE—Menasha High School unleashed a "double-barreled" hitting attack Monday to open the 1963 Hortonville WIAA District Baseball tournament with a 9-1 triumph over Shiocton. Six of the Bluejays 10 hits were for two bases.

The Bluejays will make their next tournament start Wednesday against New London. The meet is to continue today with Kimberly Langling with Hortonville at 3 p.m.

Menasha broke the game open in the third inning when it tallied five runs on four hits (three of them doubles), two walks and a like number of errors. Morry Quick, George Massey and Bob Wendt pounded the two-baggers.

Raps Double

Shiocton hit paydirt when Gene Conrad unloaded a triple to open the fourth and scored on Gene Peters' single.

Weyauwega, Greenville Win BABA Openers

Koehler, Grossman Combine to Blank Hortonville

NEW LONDON — The Southern Division of the BABA opened its season Sunday with Weyauwega taking a 9-0 decision from Hortonville and Greenville winning, 5-4, over Waupaca. New London, the fifth team of the division, was idle.

Weyauwega took advantage of six Hortonville errors in the first inning to score four runs. In the second inning Wega scored another unearned run and added two more in the third inning on three walks and a single by Dave Koehler who also pitched six innings and was credited with the win.

The hosts scored their final two runs in the eighth when Koehler got another single, Gary Grossman drew a walk and both scored on a double by Rodger Schmoldt.

Strikes Out 3
Ahrens who started on the mound for Hortonville went five innings and gave up three hits and seven runs. He struck out three and walked four. Selbach relieved Ahrens in the sixth and gave up two runs on two hits. He struck out three and walked one.

Koehler for Weyauwega allowed three hits, gave up three walks and struck out eight. Gary Grossman who pitched three innings, gave up two hits, walked one and struck out one.

Greenville came from behind in the ninth inning to score three runs on three hits and an error. Both teams scored one run in the first inning and Waupaca added two in the fifth. Both runs in the fifth were driven in on a single by Russ Thompson. Paca added its fourth run in the sixth.

Greenville came back in the seventh to score a single run and went on to take the win in the ninth. Ed Jungwirth singled. Ken Schmeizer was safe on an error, and, after Al Paschke sacrificed, Marly Dunbar doubled the tying runs.

The winning run was driven in on a single by Ron Schroeder. Ken Schmeizer went the distance on the mound for Greenville. He gave up five hits, struck out 11 and walked seven. Bob Hanson, who went the distance for Waupaca gave up 10 hits, and struck

Gus Triandos Has 'Press Conference' After Striking Out

BALTIMORE (AP)—In a way, the return of Gus Triandos to Baltimore was somewhat triumphant. At least, he received more cheers than boos for the first time in years.

He was given a warm welcome by Orioles fans Monday night when he appeared as a pinchhitter for the Detroit Tigers with a man on second base and two outs in the ninth inning. The fans cheered even more when he took a third called strike to end the game, won 6-0 by Baltimore.

"I'm the first guy who ever held a press conference for striking out," Triandos told reporters after the game.

out six. He didn't give up a single walk.

Next Sunday, Greenville will meet New London and Weyauwega will travel to Waupaca.

Latest Rumors Claim Foxes Open Home Stand

Report Tebbetts Has Talked to Haney About Hurler

CLEVELAND (AP)—Rumors persisted in baseball circles today that pitcher Bo (No-hit) Belinsky will not be with the Los Angeles Angels much longer.

Latest report is that the sometimes wayward Angel is about to be traded. An earlier report had the southpaw headed for the minors.

Bud Furillo, sports writer for the Los Angeles Herald-Examiner, said Monday night a deal for Belinsky already has been approved by Los Angeles General Manager Fred Haney.

Gabe Paul, president of the Cleveland Indians, was asked whether the Tribe was interested in Belinsky, who became a celebrity with his no-hitter in his rookie season last year.

"We always are interested in strengthening the ball club," Gabe replied, adding: "I can't talk about specific players. It could be construed as tampering."

Talked to Rigney
Paul did say that Manager Birdie Tebbetts had been talking to Los Angeles Manager Bill Rigney, and he observed that Belinsky "has a good arm."

There will be more conversations before Los Angeles departs Wednesday night, but "whether something will come of it, I don't know," Paul added.

Rigney wasn't doing much talking, but Los Angeles baseball writers report that the manager would like to get Cleveland's Gary Bell, a right-hander who's been having some troubles of his own. He has won 2 and lost 3 so far this season.

The 26-year-old Belinsky, who has a 1-7 record this season, spent Monday night in the bullpen as the Tribe beat the Angels 7-5. The move means the removal of the left-hander from the starting rotation.

Rigney said Belinsky was great in spring training but hasn't shown much stuff lately and has been wild. He said he wants the pitcher to stay in the bullpen a while and see whether pitching coach Marv Grissom can straighten him out.

"I hope to use him as a long man in relief," said Rigney.

Engaged to Name
The Angels manager said he thought Belinsky was behaving himself pretty well this season and that Belinsky's night-time activities have not been a problem.

The dapper pitcher is engaged to blonde film beauty Mamie Van Doren. He's been a familiar figure in Hollywood night spots.

Rigney also scoffed at reports Belinsky would be sent to the minors. He said the subject has not been discussed. "He got enough stuff to pitch in the majors so why should we send him down," he added.

Belinsky didn't say much after the game. He repeated to reporters that he was "bewildered and jinxed" and was losing a lot of sleep because of worry over his pitching.

Tebbetts, asked about the trade rumors involving Belinsky and possibly other players, said he'd be doing a lot of talking between now and the trade deadline next month.

"You'll hear plenty of rumors," declared Tebbetts.

Roosevelt Leads City Track Meet

Scores 51 Points In Field Events; Wilson Second

Roosevelt took a commanding lead in the Appleton Public Junior High School track meet which got underway Monday and winds up today.

Roosevelt racked up 52 points in the field events.

Wilson is second with 22 points and Madison third with 16.

Roosevelt had six firsts in the 10 field events. The high jump in the ninth grade section of the meet had to be postponed until today because of the strong wind which continually knocked the bar down and the drizzle which started near the end of the event.

In the high jump of the eighth grade section, Billy DeMars, Jr., son of the Fox Cities Foxes manager, won first place. Olson of Wilson tied at the winning 4 feet, 9 inches height but DeMars was awarded first place because he had fewer misses.

No new records were set in the field events. The running events will take place this afternoon at Wilson.

Field events summary:
Seventh Grade

Shawano '9' Raps Bowler, 11 to 0

SHAWANO — Wayne Darling hurled 1-hit ball as he put Shawano into the Shawano WIAA District Baseball tournament finals against Bowler Wednesday afternoon with an 11-0 victory over Gresham Monday afternoon.

Floyd Petrich garnered the only hit in the fifth inning. Darling fanned six and gave up two walks. The game was called at the end of five innings.

Shawano collected 13 hits, including three each by Bob Grignon and Ken Spurrier.

Next Sunday's Games:
Bonduel at Freedom, Seymour at Hofa Park, Landstad at Garsow, Black Creek at Navarino.

Nichols and Garsow continued to share the Dairyland Baseball League lead by scoring victories Sunday afternoon. Nichols edged Navarino, 6-5, while Garsow topped Seymour, 9-4.

Bonduel bombed Hofa Park, 12-8, and Freedom measured Black Creek, 8-4, in other games.

Jack Plamann led Nichols with three hits, while Joe Buss held Navarino to five hits. Alan Porter hurled for the losers and also led the attack with two hits.

Ronnie John scattered four hits as he hurled Garsow past Seymour. John needed help from Ralph Krabbe for the final two outs.

Gene Krahn was the Seymour pitcher. John Rice supported him with a homer in a losing cause.

A pair of Jims—Jim Ludwig and Jim Beyer—paced Freedom's victory. Ludwig fanned seven in gaining the win while both cracked two hits each in the attack.

Jerry Rohm and Alan Mitchell share mound chores for Black Creek. Wayne Muenster and Rohm had two hits each for the losers.

Pete Sengiz banged four of Bonduel's 12 hits against Seymour. Vanden Elzen and Don Krumrai of Hofa Park. Eugene Naparella led Hofa Park with three hits.

Vanden Elzen and Krumrai share mound duties for Hofa Park with Krumrai coming on with two out in the fifth. Roger Polzin picked up the victory for Bonduel although Jerry Marohl took over with two out in the sixth inning. Each struck out one and Polzin walked five.

Cincinnati Reds' Plane Makes Forced Landing

MILWAUKEE (AP)—A chartered plane carrying members of the Cincinnati Reds baseball club from St. Louis to Milwaukee was forced to make an unscheduled stop at Chicago Monday when trouble developed in one of its four engines.

Avery Robbins, the Reds' traveling secretary, said the pilot of the United Air Lines plane feathered the prop of the dead engine after it started throwing oil. The plane had just left St. Louis but managed to fly the rest of the way to Chicago on three engines.

The players and equipment were transferred to another DC-7 in Chicago for the remainder of the trip to Milwaukee where the Reds and Milwaukee Braves met tonight.

Joe Perry Signs Colts' Contract

BALTIMORE (AP)—Joe Perry, a 14-year veteran of the National Football League, has signed his 1963 contract with the Baltimore Colts.

Perry, 36, was sidelined by a knee operation following a pre-season game, but made a remarkable comeback and finished second among the Colts' ground gainers last year. Perry, twice named all-pro, has been with the Colts for two seasons.

Perry stands 6-0, weighs 200 pounds and is among the league's smallest fullbacks.

SMOOTH SAILING AHEAD
by Capt. A.B. Fraser-Harris, RCN

Better Boat Manners

Welcome aboard, sailor; But let's make sure you are—welcome, that is.

If you get invited to go on a boating expedition, a yachting cap may do something for your ego, and the female form in a striped seaman's jersey might quicken some seaman's pulse—but climb aboard in leather soled shoes or high heels, scratch the paintwork, and the chances are you won't be asked again.

Bare feet are also the mark of the landlubber. They slip easily on a wet deck (which is often cluttered with cleats and other nautical equipment just waiting to stub the unwary toe), and while your subsequent language may be nautical, your value as a crew member may be drastically reduced.

If you can't afford a pair of "topsiders" or similar yachting shoes with non-skid treads, buy sneakers and rough the soles with a knife.

Look Where You Step
You may no longer be able to tell a sailor by his walk, but you certainly can by the way he or she gets into a boat. The top of the side of the boat, called the gunwale (because it was here that the harpoon guns were mounted in old whaleboats), is not to be stepped on.

In a small boat, this practice will strain the hull and, by stepping on the side of the boat, you will rock it strongly and even may capsize it. Get aboard by stepping well into the boat. Don't jump unless you have to. For boats are built to take pressure from the outside, not the inside: you may go right on down through the bottom. Step in firmly, swinging your weight over the centerline. Don't hesitate and push with one foot to see if it is going to take your weight, or you'll end up shoving the boat off and doing the splits over the water. Hold onto something if you can, and never be ashamed to ask for a hand; a good seaman will always be ready to assist, and will think more of you for your caution.

Keep Down and Hold On
Never stand up in a small boat unless you have to. It may feel pretty good to show off your sea legs, but to anyone who knows his stuff, this is a display of ignorance. It's against the sailor's basic rules of common sense; by standing up, you reduce the stability of the boat. In a small outboard, it is downright dangerous.

If you want to move around, keep down and hold on. If two people want to change places, pass on the opposite sides of the boat. Always try to keep the boat on an even keel level.

If someone is trying to climb aboard over the side, and another is helping to hoist him in, anyone else in the boat should move to the other side of the boat to balance it.

Here's another tip: Don't feed the barnacles blood for breakfast. The easiest way to get hurt in a boat is to put your arms or hands outside of it.

Avoid Finger Damage
Don't hold on to the gunwale with your fingers over the side, for when the boat leaves a jetty (pier), or comes alongside, or accidentally bumps another boat, your fingers will be smartly ground between the two.

Then, there's always the enthusiast who want to leap to his feet to stand by when you're coming alongside, or who tries to jump onto the jetty with a line before you're secured.

If you do so without losing a friend, discourage this "assistance." Someone jumping around in the boat just makes it harder to steady up for arrival, and anyone jumping for the jetty will often only succeed in pushing the boat off again!

So, sit down, sit down, you're rocking the boat!

And remember to keep your arms and legs inboard.

Hint 'Lost' Bonds Are in Swiss Bank

Newspaper Says Deposits Made Abroad by 2 Men

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Part of $7.5 million in negotiable Treasury certificates that vanished last March from the San Francisco Federal Reserve Bank may have been deposited in a "numbered" Swiss bank account, the San Francisco Examiner said today.

The Examiner said Senate Internal Security Committee investigators who looked into the disappearance of the bonds have learned that two men, whose identities were not disclosed, deposited several Treasury certificates of large denomination—including one of more than a million-dollar value—in the Swiss bank.

The newspaper said the State

Department is seeking to have the Swiss government lift its customary banking secrecy to establish whether the certificates on deposit are part of those missing from the Federal Reserve Bank vault.

Officials Have No Report

Spokesmen for both the Treasury and the Federal Reserve Board said in Washington they were unaware of any new developments concerning the disappearance of the Treasury certificates.

Each of the 12 missing certificates, as well as the interest coupons, bore a number making it possible to identify each certificate.

The reserve board spokesman said that at this time the disappearance of the certificates involves no financial loss to anyone.

He explained that the California bank which had bought the certificates through the Federal Reserve had been "made whole" meaning that it had received new certificates.

Bear No Interest

Should any of the missing certificates be presented by a bank for payment, he said they would be honored, but added the presentation would trigger an immediate investigation, the certificates matured May 15 and are no longer drawing interest.

Seven of the missing certificates are for $1 million each and five for $100,000 each.

It was disclosed in Washington Monday that a report on the disappearance of the securities is scheduled for consideration this week by the House Banking Committee. Sources said the report is critical of bank procedures.

The information gathered at a recent subcommittee hearing in San Francisco was reported to indicate little possibility that the securities were stolen. But the Federal Reserve theory that they were accidentally burned was not conclusively proved by the data, the subcommittee was reported to believe.

The sources said there were indications the majority of the subcommittee favored criticizing the bank for its procedures in handling and accounting for the securities and for a delay in officially reporting the loss and warning potential buyers.

Kiwanis to Hear Talks on Scouting

LITTLE CHUTE—R. A. Vogt, president of the Combined Locks Paper Company, and Charles Ehlike, personnel manager for that concern, will be guest speakers for the Kiwanis Club dinner at 6:05 tonight at Hammen's Restaurant.

Both speakers are expected to talk on Boy Scouting as they are active in Scout affairs. Scoutmasters from the village and Combined Locks will be special guests. Program chairman is Nic Vanderpas.

'Chuting Star' Dedicated To Sodality of Our Lady

LITTLE CHUTE — The largest yearbook in the history of St. John High School is being distributed this week to students at the school.

The 104-page book is dedicated to Our Lady of the Sodality in honor of the 400th anniversary of the founding of the sodality. Over-all theme of the "Chuting Star" is "Going Forward in Perfection, Oneness in Christ."

No drawings were utilized in the book this year, rather pictures were used to lead off various sections of the book such as activities, sports, academic work and others. The blue, white and silver

Muddle Over Front Street Delays Intersection Work

No Widening Can be Done Until Public Hearing Is Conducted

The widening of the Prospect Avenue - Memorial Drive intersection, and installation of new traffic signals, will be delayed indefinitely until the Appleton Common Council decides what to do about Front Street.

Expected to cost an estimated $12,000, the proposed intersection project is being held up by the council's street-sanitation committee. The work was approved in January by the public safety committee.

However, this was before the barricading of the east end of Front Street on a six-month try-out basis became a full scale issue within the common council.

At its meeting last week, the council after considerable deliberation and debate went on record that a public hearing will have to be held before a final determination is made as to whether Front Street will be closed.

Circumvent Signals

The street originally was barricaded by the city because of the traffic hazard presented by motorists circumventing the signals at the Prospect Avenue - Memorial Drive intersection and turning onto Front Street.

City Planner - Engineer Walter Rasmussen recommends that Front Street be closed, and claims the proposed intersection widening should make for improvement in the flow of traffic.

City police have been stationed at the busy intersection periodically to assist with the traffic jams. Traffic counts have shown that at certain times of the day, mostly in the morning and late afternoon, vehicular movement is the heaviest.

No Go-Ahead

Public Works Director Robert W. Bues said today it was his understanding that the street-sanitation committee has not given the go-ahead to the intersection project because the closing or opening of Front Street would have a bearing on the extent of work to be done by the city in that area.

The city has plans to do sewer construction work in the area and it would all tie in with the widening of the intersection and changing of the present traffic control system.

City Clerk Elden Broehm said today that he thought the public hearing on the Front Street matter would probably be held in mid-July.

Until then the intersection widening will be held in abeyance. All of the plans have been approved by the state highway department.

Lawrence Sets Karate Show

Demonstrations to Be Given on Campus Saturday Afternoon

An outdoor demonstration of the Oriental sport karate will be given at 2 p.m. Saturday at Lawrence College on the lawn in front of Ormsby Hall.

The demonstration will be conducted like a regular karate class, and will be accompanied by an explanation.

Tadayoshi Hayakawa of Tokyo, Japan, who has taught the class during the past year, is in charge of the demonstration. Hayakawa holds the coveted black belt of karate, the highest award attainable. Categories range from white belt, the lowest, through blue, brown and black belts. The blue belt, however, is given only in Hawaii, not in Japan. The blue belt is held by another karate performer at Lawrence, Gary Tanouye of Wailuku, Maui.

In addition to Hayakawa and Tanouye, the following men will appear in the demonstration: Richard Lim, Honolulu, Hawaii; John Ishikawa, Honolulu; Charles Warning, St. Peter, Minn.; John Peters, Nantucket, Mass.; Mark Castellane, Evergreen Park, Ill.; Bruce Manheim, Hicksville, N. Y.; Richard Stone, Geneseo, Ill.; Richard Schwanbeck, Old Saybrook, Conn.; Mahlon Hubenthal, Lewiston, Idaho; Edward Dusowsky, Watertown; David Griffin, Glenview, Ill.; Jon Eggleston, Galesburg, Ill.; and Neil Friedman, Milwaukee.

Traditional uniforms consisting of a belted loose white tunic and trousers are worn by the Karate Club.

The group will hold an evening reception from 8 to 10 p.m. Sunday in the Terrace Room of Memorial Union.

Children Abbreviate JFK's Hike

Three young hikers from Darboy did their own abbreviated version of the 50-mile march Monday causing considerable consternation in public and private quarters in three communities.

Connie and Carla Kiel, 5 and 2 years respectively, daughters of Larry Kiel, Darboy, and Nancy Schaefer, 5, daughter of Mrs. Gerald Schaefer, Darboy, were the strong - legged, sound-winded hikers.

Nancy's mother reported the youngsters missing about 10 a.m. Monday. Police in Appleton, Kimberly, Combined Locks and the Outagamie County Sheriff's department were alerted.

Last word from the youngsters was that "we're going to the park for a picnic."

The trio, slightly winded but in otherwise good condition, were found near the Lawrence College campus about 2 p.m. They had walked about five miles.

Roland Abitz New President Of MacDowell

Roland Abitz was elected president of the Appleton MacDowell Male Chorus at the annual business meeting held Monday night at Louie's Supper Club, route 1, Appleton.

He succeeds Leonard Hanstedt, who becomes state governor.

Other officers named are Robert Brinkman, vice president; Robert Gauerke, recording secretary; William Book, treasurer; Clay Wildenberg, music secretary; and Victor Pritzel and George Browne, directors.

Perfect attendance awards for the 1962-63 season went to Gauerke, Brinkman, Donald Biesterveld, David Derfus, James Zuleger, Karel Richmond and Norman Tornow.

Hanstedt and Edwin F. Zordel, conductor, will attend the annual mid-summer meeting of the Wisconsin Association of Male Choruses at Rhineland on June 15 and 16. Date for the 1964 state sing and the maced chorus numbers will be selected.

Juniors to Stage Farewell For St. Mary High Seniors

MENASHA — In keeping with the times, the seniors at St. Mary High School will be transported to a quaint street in Paris for their farewells. "A Special from Paris" will be the theme for the juniors in their novel, traditional "goodbye" to the upper classroom.

The party begins at 7:30 p.m. tonight in the high school gymnasium.

Luane Briske and her committee have created a Parisian setting for the party. Invitations were handled by Sue Bunker and Mary Weisgerber.

Plan Commission Representatives to Speak in Madison

Representatives to Discuss Bill On Metropolitan Service Districts

Representatives of the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission were scheduled to speak in Madison this afternoon in support of legislation permitting creation of multiple service districts.

The proposed law would allow municipalities to join in forming metropolitan service districts that would serve the common good of each community. Such a law would permit establishing an organization to buy right-of-way, construct and maintain the proposed Fox Valley expressway system, and a similar organization to buy, operate and maintain Stroebe's Island as a district park.

Stated to appear before the governmental and veterans affairs committee were Eugene E. Franchetti, planning director for the Fox Valley Regional Planning Commission, and Gordon A. Bubolz, a member of the commission and chairman of the Wolf River Basin Regional Planning Commission.

The legislation is sponsored by the Fox Valley unit, and was introduced into the senate by Sen. Gerald Lorge (R-Bear Creek).

Need for Law

The two men pointed out the Fox Valley's need for the proposed law, and the fact that in the near future other areas in the state will need it also.

The Fox Valley commission was the first one in the state, and has put this region far ahead of those with more recently organized planning groups.

Franchetti, in his presentation, pointed out that the 11 municipalities in the region have a great deal of interdependence on one another. Common needs can best be satisfied by cooperation to provide common facilities, he indicated. The proposed legislation would allow for that cooperation, by setting up the physical machinery to provide metropolitan facilities.

Bubolz emphasized the fact that the costs for government to provide public services is growing all the time and the tax base is not expanding correspondingly. The law would set up the framework within which units of government in an area could unite to combine their resources for better major facilities, he said.

Bar License Renewals Out

June 4 Set as Final Deadline For Applications

Several Appleton bartenders are delinquent in filing for license renewals, City Clerk Elden Broehm disclosed today.

Broehm announced that as a result the final deadline for submitting applications to his office for bartender and cigarette licenses is June 4.

Broehm said the original deadline for making license applications was May 1. However, when several bartenders failed to submit applications another notice was sent to them on May 15.

"It is necessary that the applications be made on time in order for the common council to grant the license," Broehm said.

"Failure to comply (with the June 4 deadline) might result in not granting or issuing of a license when they are to become effective July 1," Broehm warned.

It was also announced that all licenses for liquor will be granted, issued or denied no later than June 15 for the 1963-64 license year. The common council's welfare and ordinance committee will be convening prior to the regular June 5 council meeting to make recommendations on applications up for consideration.

The premises of the establishments will be inspected by various municipal agencies, including the police, fire and health departments, along with the building and plumbing inspectors.

Young Weather Observer Named Boy of Month

Ralph E. Dorn, 18, 136 N. Story St., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph J. Dorn, has been named Optimist Boy of the Month.

Dorn was the recent subject of a cover story in View, the Post-Crescent Sunday magazine. For several years he has had an intense interest in the weather and has provided weather information for both the Post-Crescent and Radio Station WAPL.

The Xavier High School senior developed his interest in weather before his teens and his family helped it along with a beginner's weather kit for Christmas. Since 1961, he has been doing three weather broadcasts daily for WAPL.

Divorce Granted to Mrs. Nancy O. Dude

OSHKOSH — Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane Monday granted a divorce to Nancy Olsen Dude, Neenah, from Robert J. Dude, Greendale, on her charge of cruel and inhuman treatment. Both are 20 years old.

They were married at Milwaukee Nov. 25, 1961, and separated March 19, 1962. They have one child of which she will have custody. A property settlement was arranged.

Neenah Review Board Attends Day Institute

NEENAH — Members of the Neenah board of review, City Clerk R. V. Hauser, and City Building Inspector Carlton Williams attended a one-day institute on boards of review at Madison Monday.

Attending from the Neenah board of review were Dan Howman, Edward W. Schultz and Larry Driscoll, according to Hauser.

The institute included discussions on "The Powers and Duties of the Board of Review," "Functions and Role of the Board of Review," and talks by representatives of the board of review, the municipal assessor, the attorney for the taxpayer and the attorney for the municipality.

A question and answer period followed the talk on the functions and role of the board of review.

A summation of the institute followed the day's program, Hauser said.

Official Paper May be Decided In Court Action

City Attorney of Menasha Predicts
Prohibition Writ

MENASHA — City Atty. Richard Steffens Monday night predicted the selection of an official newspaper for the City of Menasha and Neenah will be settled in the Wisconsin courts.

"There is a strong possibility a writ of prohibition will be filed against the common council for the City of Menasha," Steffens said.

Steffens' statement came after Ald. Donald Kemps raised the question of whether the City of Menasha will pay 7 cents per line for publication of council proceedings and city legal notices if Neenah is offered a much lower rate.

The Neenah City Council requested new bids at a meeting last week after bids submitted from the Twin City News-Record and the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern were disqualified.

The bids to the Neenah Council were identical to those offered to Menasha. The TCNR bid was 6.5 cents per line per insertion plus allowance specified by statute for areas containing tabulated matter; and the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern bid was 7 cents per line per insertion.

Following disqualification of the bids, both newspapers offered lower rates ranging down to 5 cents.

Kemps questioned if the City of Menasha isn't wasting money by advertising in both papers when the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern has been selected as the official paper.

Circulation

Kemps said he thought the city is wasting money by not taking the paper with the widest circulation.

He said he thought the common council should also advertise for new bids for the official paper.

He complimented the council on their handling of the bids and said the Menasha councilmen acted like "gentlemen" while the Neenah council session where bids were considered was like a "three ring circus."

In reply to Kemp's query, Steffens said he has a commitment from one paper, (which he later identified as the Oshkosh Daily Northwestern) to charge the City of Menasha the same rates as that of Neenah.

However, he warned councilmen that if a low bid is not accepted the aldermen and mayor could be held responsible for the difference between the negotiated price.

Councilmen, meeting in committees as a whole, indicated they will wait and see what Neenah does before taking further action on final selection of an official newspaper.

Steffens reminded them they selected an official newspaper through a vote at the last council session, but did not authorize the mayor to sign a contract with a newspaper.

Jay Netters Cop 4-3 Win Over Ships

MANITOWOC — Menasha's netters ended a dry spell which extended for almost two decades when they defeated defending state champion Manitowoc 4-3 here Monday afternoon.

The victory protected the Bluejays' unbeaten record which includes seven duals, two triangulars and the Mid-Eastern Conference championship. It marked the first triumph over the Shipbuilders for Coach Leo Kenney, who has been directing the Bluejay fortunes since 1954.

Menasha captured victories in three of the five singles matches and clinched the victory when Larry and John Conway beat Pete Kramer and Jim Katrud 6-3, 6-3 at the No. 1 doubles.

Singles Victors

Bluejay singles victors were Larry Conway over Kramer 6-3, 7-5; Tom Vanderhyden over Skatrud 6-3, 6-1; and John Conway over Mike Garey 6-2, 8-6 at No. 3.

Manitowoc's Dean Eisner topped Pat Kenney 4-6, 6-1, 6-0 at the No. 1 singles and the Ships' Dave Anderson whipped Bill Kringle 8-6, 6-3 at No. 5.

Eisner and Anderson bested Fenney and Vanderhyden 6-4, 6-4 at the No. 2 doubles.

Larry Karbon of Manitowoc downed Pat Conway 7-5, 6-1 in an exhibition singles match and Joe Jarosch and Dean Bennington won over Kringle and Pat Conway 6-2, 7-5 in a non-counting doubles.

Mayor Asks Alderman to Reject All Stadium Bids

Architects to Revise Plans
To Cut Costs

MENASHA — Mayor John Klein Monday night asked members of the Menasha City Council to reject all bids for construction of the Nathaniel Calder Stadium because specifications are being altered to lower the cost of the facilities.

The mayor said architects will include more alternates and "come up with a much better figure" of cost for constructing the stadium.

He also indicated there is no chance of the stadium being built in time for use this year. "Even if the field was sodded we couldn't use it this fall," the mayor said.

But he indicated there is little chance the stadium will not be built.

Approximately $275,000

The mayor expressed regret at the high bids received, which totaled close to $275,000 with alterations, but said, "I think it can be worked out nicely and we can still have the stadium."

As far as the fence and lights, he put in this year, he said, indicating they could be installed next year or later when needed.

The mayor said the stadium could be ready for use next year.

He reassured the city it would not be obligated to pay more than $150,000.

"The only proper thing to do is reject the bids and get new specifications," the mayor said. He said he did not think rejection of bids would be necessary a second time.

Question Cost

Two aldermen questioned the expense of the stadium and facilities that should be included.

The mayor replied that he has been assured by George Banta, III that the city will have a fence and lights.

The Banta Foundation already has donated land for the facility. Banta and Patzner chosen the most valuable player.

Cheerleader awards went to Sue Jen Heil and Leah Brown, juniors; and Barbara Wirth and Kay Bailey, sophomores.

Msgr. Joseph Becker told the athletes, parents and guests that athletics are an important part of school and country and although sometimes an impression of overemphasis is given in winning and neglect in losing, they serve a useful purpose in the overall picture.

Frank Staniak Jr. was master of ceremonies.

Cheerleaders Win
Honors Too at Dinner in School

MENASHA — St. Mary High School golf, basketball, tennis and baseball players and cheerleaders received their letters at a dinner for the various squads Monday evening in the school cafeteria.

Baseball players awarded mementos by Coach Jack Wippich were Gene Patzner, Bill Starr, Tom Heroux, Dave Birling, Tom Johnson and John Timm, seniors; Mike Staniak, Bill Martin, Chuck Hoernke, Mike Rausch, Tom Simon, Bill Stoegebauer and Wayne Rippl, juniors; and Tom Mortell and Dave Meier, sophomores.

Simon, Mortell, Meier, Stoegebauer and Rippl received their first awards while the others are the Shipbuilders for Coach Leo Kenney, who has been directing the Bluejay fortunes since 1954.

Menasha captured victories in three of the five singles matches and clinched the victory when Larry and John Conway beat Pete Kramer and Jim Katrud 6-3, 6-3 at the No. 1 doubles.

Cage Awards

Basketball letters went to Steve Schmidt, John Timm, Tom Johnson, Jim Karisny, Gene Patzner and Bill Starr, seniors; Ken Jahne, Bill Martin, Mike Rausch and Chuck Hoernke, juniors; Kim Vanderhyden and Tom Mortell, sophomores; and managers Ray Tewes and Dan Nadolney.

Schmidt, Karisny, Jahne, Mortell, Vanderhyden, Martin, Rausch and Hoernke received their first basketball awards.

It was announced that Karisny had been elected honorary captain.

Kennedy's Act In Birmingham Will be Tested

Sending of Troops Was Violation of State's Sovereignty

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — Have the American people just been given an example of how each of the 50 states of the union can be deprived of their sovereignty despite the explicit guarantees written into the Constitution?

Has a precedent been established whereby the chief executive of the Federal government may at any time in his discretion hereafter use military force or threaten to do so in order to coerce any state, county or city government to obey his decrees?

The asking of such questions is occasioned by the mobilization of federal military forces around Birmingham, Ala., following a series of tragic events in that city in the last few days. For when restrictions in the Constitution can be ignored by a president of the United States in order to carry out his personal concepts of what the behavior of state or city officials should be, the facts on which the people can base a judgment should be made available. On May 8, President Kennedy was asked at his news conference about the use of the powers of the presidency in the Alabama situation. The stenographic transcript shows his reply as follows:

Kennedy's Statement

"There isn't any federal statute that was involved in the last few days in Birmingham, Ala. I indicated the areas where the federal government had intervened in Birmingham — the matter of voting, the matter of dealing with education, other matters. On the specific question of the parades, that did not involve a federal statute."

The questioner started to ask about Negro students, and the President interrupted with the following comment:

"As I indicated in my answer, that is the reason why Mr. Marshall (of the U. S. Department of Justice) is proceeding the way he has, and we have not had, for example, a legal suit as we have had in some other cases where there was a federal statute involved."

But on Saturday night and Sunday morning, disorders broke out in Birmingham, and President Kennedy issued orders Sunday afternoon for about 3,000 federal troops — especially trained in riot control — to go to the vicinity of Birmingham. The governor of Alabama and the two United States senators from that state said in messages to the President that there was no need for federal troops, as the local authorities were capable of handling the situation. The President in his reply to the governor said:

Historic Viewpoint

"In response to the question raised in your telegram of last night, federal troops would be sent into Birmingham, if necessary, under the authority of Title 10, Section 333, Paragraph 1 of the United States Code relating to the suppression of domestic violence. Under this section, which has been invoked by my immediate predecessor and other presidents as well as myself on previous occasions, the Congress entrusts to the President all determinations as to (1) the necessity for action; (2) the means to be employed; and (3) the adequacy or inadequacy of the protection afforded by state authorities to the citizens of that state."

This is a historic statement. If accepted as valid, it permits a military dictatorship in the United States at any time any president chooses to invoke this same concept of executive power. For it claims there has been an unlimited delegation to the President of the power to use military force instead of court procedure and to threaten to use troops or send them to a troubled area — even before a federal law is actually violated.

The statute quoted by the President, however, gives no such power. It reads as follows:

"Section 333. Interference with state and federal law.

"The President, by using the militia or the armed forces, or both, or by any other means, shall Pupils at St. Mary Catholic School present one of the numbers in the school's annual music festival. This year's theme was "Sailing Along in Rhythm and Song." ## Police Association Honors Rescuers

JANESVILLE (AP)—Residents of Cudahy and Wisconsin Rapids were honored Monday night by the Wisconsin Professional Police-mens Association at the group's 30th annual convention.

Merit awards were presented to Police Officer John Wrazel and Mrs. Nellie Kresser, both of Cudahy, for their part in rescuing a child who had fallen from a bridge. Outstanding youth awards were made to Barbara Mitchell and Gary Spaulding, both 18 and both of Wisconsin Rapids, for rescuing several children from a burning home.

All officers of the association were reelected. They are John Havey, Fond du Lac, president; Frank Barbers, Stevens Point, vice president; Ray Cray, Madison, secretary, and Charles Wolbert of Cudahy, treasurer.

take such measures as he considers necessary to suppress, in a state, any insurrection, domestic violence, unlawful combination, or conspiracy, if it —

"(1) So hinders the execution of the laws of that state, and of the United States within the state that any part or class of its people is deprived of a right, privilege, or immunity, or protection named in the Constitution and secured by law, and the constituted authorities of that state are unable, fail, or refuse to protect that right, privilege, or immunity, or to give that protection; or

"(2) Opposes or obstructs the execution of the laws of the United States or impedes the course of justice under those laws."

No Statutes Broken

Since the President in this case did not invoke paragraph number 2 and conceded instead that no court orders were involved — as they were in Little Rock, Ark., and Oxford, Miss. — the question is what federal statutes were broken. There were none. The states alone have the power to deal with local disorders.

The Constitution says in Section 4 of Article IV:

"The United States shall guarantee to every state in this union a Republican form of government, and shall protect each of them against invasion; and on application of the legislature, or of the executive — when the legislature cannot be convened — against domestic violence."

The words "the United States shall guarantee" mean that the federal government guarantees and the President is charged with the duty of carrying out the provisions of the Constitution.

The governor of Alabama did not apply for aid and formally notified the President that the "unwarranted presence" of the federal troops is "an open invitation to a resumption of street rioting by lawless Negro mobs, on the assumption they will be protected by federal military forces." He has announced that he will ask a federal court to order the troops removed.

Clearly a precedent of far-reaching significance is being established in a nation which has long boasted of the benefits of a written Constitution and the separation of powers.

Presbyterians Urged To Pay More Heed to World of 'Outsider'

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—The man who shuns religion was analyzed by some church experts today — and classified as a puzzling character of varied motives and traits.

He may be openly hostile to faith, or indifferent; he may be a "troubled idealist," a self-styled "rugged individualist" or even a regular member of the church who doesn't really believe its message, the report said.

Prepared by an evangelism commission and presented to the United Presbyterian General Assembly, it urged the church to break out of its "snug isolation" and pay more attention to the world of "the outsider."

Yet "it is not easy to understand the identity of the outsider," the report conceded.

The commission, headed by the Rev. Dr. Robert Beach Cunningham of New York, recommended steps for expanding the church's ministry beyond the parish to focus it increasingly on "the outsider."

On another matter Monday, the representatives of 3½ million Presbyterians set up a special task force, backed by a $500,000 budget to translate the church's pronouncements on racial justice into action.

AHS Foreign Students Named

American Field Service has named two foreign exchange students for Appleton High School during the 1963-64 school year.

Jeannie Reff, 16, Luxembourg, a senior, will live at the home of Trish Gorsky, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Gorsky, 224 E. Brewster St.

Ian Bruce Howie, 18, Australia, also a senior, will live with the George Ward family, 217 E. Byrd St. David Ward is a senior at Appleton High.

Senior Class Trip Opens Final Week At St. John High

LITTLE CHUTE — Plans have been completed for the final week of classes at St. John High School with a senior class trip to Wisconsin Dells scheduled Friday.

Final examinations for seniors will be held May 28 and 29 with award's day to be held May 31 and graduation June 2. Underclassmen at the school will be taking final exams June 4 and 5 and will be dismissed from school June 7.

County Sheriff and Traffic Personnel to Organize Pistol Team

Sheriff Cal Spice said today his department and the Outagamie County Traffic Police will organize a pistol team to appear in organized police shoots throughout the Fox Valley.

Department personnel participated in the first practice Monday at the Appleton Police Department's pistol range. All personnel in both departments will participate in handgun practice, Spice said.

Cold Air Lessens Storm Peril After 6 States Are Hit

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Unseasonable cold cleared the New England air today of violent thunderstorms and tornadoes that roared through the six states Monday.

Four persons in Maine lost their lives in the storms.

A great mass of cold air from the north carried freezing temperatures today to the eastern slopes of the Rockies and the Northern Plains. Snow flurries accompanied showers in Minnesota and eastern North Dakota.

Bismarck's 29 temperature tied a record low for the date. It was 24 at Broadus, Mont., and Moorcroft, Wyo.

A windstorm was blamed for the crash of a small plane into the Bath Iron Works at Bath, Maine, Monday, killing a Boston couple and their infant son. A Winslow, Maine, man drowned when a squall capsized his 12-foot skiff.

Twisters flattened buildings, uprooted trees and knocked down power lines in western Massachusetts and Connecticut.

Neenah Man Retains Post With Wisconsin Blue Cross Plan

MILWAUKEE (AP)—Joseph C. Moser, retired vice president of a Milwaukee bank, was re-elected to his fourth term as president of the Wisconsin Blue Cross Plan Monday.

Moser was named at a meeting of the board of directors of the Associated Hospital Service, Inc., which operates the plan.

Other officers re-elected were: Daniel H. Keck of Neenah, P.J. Feneane of Eau Claire, and Ralph Hoyt of Milwaukee, all vice presidents, and Hugo Kaems of Sheboygan, treasurer.

Edward J. Logan of Milwaukee was elected secretary.

Institute Leases Woods

School Will Test Tree Growth in Northern Wisconsin

Lease of woodlands from the State of Wisconsin by the Institute of Paper Chemistry for use in its forest genetics research program has been announced.

The land consists of 60 acres in the Black River Falls Forest near Black River Falls in the Town of Millston. The land will be used by the Institute as a test site for growth of new types of trees developed in the forest genetics experimental program of the Institute.

Bigtooth aspen hybrids resulting from a number of recent crosses made at the Institute will be placed on the test site this summer. Their progress in the sandy, dry soil at the test plot in a topography characterized as flat, will be checked periodically to determine how well the particular hybrids do in that type of environment, according to Dr. Dean Einspahr, forest geneticist at the Institute.

Other test sites of the Institute are near Eagle River, Clintonville, Cornucopia, and Appleton and Marquette in Upper Michigan.

Senate Passes Bill Granting Additional Health Program Service

MADISON (AP)—Blue Cross and other hospital service corporations would be permitted to extend their insurance programs to include pharmaceutical services and nursing care under terms of a bill passed in the State Senate today.

Assembly action on an amendment still is pending. The amendment which excludes physicians, surgeons and dentists from the expanded contracting authority eliminated objections raised to the original bill by the state medical and dental societies.

Senate passage of the proposal was by voice vote.

Appleton Notified Of State Tax Share

The City of Appleton was notified today that its May allocation of state-shared income taxes for that portion of the city in Calumet County is $9,663.

City Clerk Elden Broehm received notification from State Tax Commissioner John A. Gronouski. The tax rebate is for the second precinct in Appleton's 19th Ward.

At the same time Gronouski disclosed that as a result of an error in the 1962 allocation paid the City of Appleton, it could expect to receive $1,395 additional this year.

Shared income taxes are paid to municipalities by the state in May, August and November.

Report Entry Into Menasha Town Firm

OSHKOSH — Several vending machines at the Jahne Wrecking Co. on County Trunk P in the town of Menasha were broken open and the money and contents taken in a break-in sometime Saturday night or early Sunday morning, according to Winnebago County police.

A gate was smashed and a board pried off a building in order to gain entry. The exact amount of money taken was not determined.

Loyal Troops Halt New Turk Uprising

Cadets at War College Join Former Army Colonel's Second Attempt to Overthrow Rulers

ISTANBUL Turkey (AP)—Loyal troops today crushed a former army colonel's second attempt in 15 months to overthrow Turkey's government.

Radio Ankara announced the proclamation of martial law in three cities — Ankara, Istanbul and Izmir.

The revolt, headed by ex-Col. Talat Aydemir, lasted less than 12 hours. Among forces backing him were cadets of the war college, Turkey's West Point.

Aydemir Arrested
Radio Ankara announced Aydemir and 10 other top insurgents were arrested. They are expected to be tried shortly.

Seven persons were reported killed and 23 wounded during fighting in the capital. Most of them fell when government forces attacked cadets who defied an ultimatum to return to their barracks and surrender.

Gen. Cevdet Sunay, chief of staff of the Turkish armed forces, said in a broadcast shortly after dawn, "A treacherous attempt by a small group to seize power has been completely crushed."

ISTANBUL QUIT
Government troops quickly arrested four colonels who tried to seize a radio station in Istanbul. Otherwise the metropolis was quiet.

A voice on Radio Ankara announced the coup at 12:40 a.m. The insurgents declared Aydemir "chief of the revolutionary committee" and proclaimed a curfew in Turkey's three main cities — Istanbul, Ankara and Izmir.

Within an hour Radio Ankara said the coup had been thwarted and the plotters were being rounded up.

A third Radio Ankara announcement claimed army units controlled the capital "on behalf of the revolutionary committee of the Talat Aydemir." Then Radio Ankara went dead. Normal communications between Istanbul and Ankara were covered.

Ultimatum
After a period of silence, Radio Ankara went back on the air with an ultimatum from Gen. Sunay.

"I order some misled cadets and officers to surrender and retire to their barracks," he said. "Unless this is done, our forces, planes and all other armed forces units will attack."

The rebels were reported holed up in the war college, surrounded by loyalist army units.

President Cemal Gursel in another broadcast told the nation that a handful of army rebels had occupied Radio Ankara briefly but had been arrested.

"The military high command declared at dawn today that loyalist forces had the situation well in hand and appealed for calm in the nation whose location on the southwest border of the Soviet Union makes it a key member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization."

Radio Ankara said most of the cadets had returned to their quarters. The broadcast said order had been fully restored in the capital but a curfew was in force.

Priority List
Abolition of the Recreation Committee and transfer of recreation planning functions of the Resource Development Department to the Conservation Commission is proposed in a bill pending in the Legislature. The measure also gives the Conservation Commission authority to set up a project priority list, now done by the Legislature.

The committee also asked the Conservation Commission to give its recommendation on a proposed Wildcat Mountain State Park like in Vernon County to the July meeting of the recreation group.

Bebe Daniels Ill in London Hospital
LONDON (AP)—Bebe Daniels, Hollywood queen of silent films and the early talkies, regained consciousness today after suffering a stroke. She was reported better but still gravely ill.

"She's better, thank God," said her American actor husband Ben Lyon. "She recognized Miss Daniels, our family, smiled and has also spoken a few words."

Miss Daniels and Lyon came to Britain 27 years ago for a vaudeville engagement and stayed. Known to millions of Britons as Bebe and Ben, they have been stars in British show business ever since.

South Africa Leaders Grant Non-White Law

Legislation Creates Self-Government for 3 Million Xhosis

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP)—Premier Hendrik Verwoerd's government is creating African homelands for millions of nonwhites to further its race segregation policies.

The all-white Parliament last Friday approved a law granting limited self-government to the first of eight such racial enclaves known as Bantustans.

The bill grants an all-black parliament, a flag, national anthem and the official language Xhosa to 3 million Xhosa people in 64,000 square miles of Transkei territory on the Indian Ocean side of the country.

Not Independence
The new law is a far cry from independence for the Xhosis. Final control remains in white hands, and any complete hand-over promises to be a long way off, if ever.

Critics say the project is ridiculous and that the blacks are being herded onto South Africa's least productive lands.

But Daan Nel, minister of African administration and development, who piloted the bill through Parliament, forecast that South Africa would "be hailed as the creator of a policy that can also be fruitfully applied elsewhere."

The English language Johannesburg Star, often an opposition mouthpiece, said that granting of political rights to Africans in the Bantustans would not satisfy the demand of millions of Africans who would continue to live in the white areas.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., says Russia is building 16 industrial plants in Cuba including an automobile repair plant, three metallurgical factories and an oil refinery.

In a report to constituents, Mundt said Moscow Radio had confirmed this industrial activity. "Leningrad engineers have completed plans for an oil refinery to be built in the Santiago de Cuba area," Mundt said. "This plant will process 2 million tons of oil a year."

Moscow Radio Mundt said is calling Cuba "the first vanguard of socialism in that continent."

The session will run through Saturday.

The Congress will act on proposed changes in hunting and fishing regulations and hear reports from committees. The Congress executive council will convene Thursday night.

Police Rout Strikers In British Guiana; Labor Bill Protested
GEORGETOWN, British Guiana (AP)—Police firing tear gas bombs Monday chased roving bands of strikers who stormed the downtown shopping district and forced stores and theaters to close.

The demonstrations came while the legislative assembly debated Prime Minister Cheddi Jagan's request for extension of the state of emergency proclaimed by his leftist government.

The strike now in its 33rd day, was called in protest against a labor bill which would give the government the right to determine unions employers should recognize.

President Seems Aware Alabama Governor Plans Martyr Stand

Issue to Come on Campus Showdown During Fall Term

BY JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy was described today as knowing that in Gov. George Wallace of Alabama he is dealing with a man who hopes to take the South away from him in 1964.

A close associate said the President is aware that Wallace hopes to hold himself out as a martyr to Southern segregationists by a dramatic stand against integration at the University of Alabama.

Thus could come either at the university branch in Huntsville in June or on the Tuscaloosa campus next September. In either setting, those who know him well say they expect the governor to carry out his repeated pledge personally to block the doorway against admission of a Negro student.

Fit Purpose
It apparently would fit the governor's political purpose if he were arrested by U.S. marshals. But the assumption is that news pictures showing U.S. officials jostling him aside would do about as well.

According to one of those presidential aides who had erupted into violence, Sam slashed Janet's arm with a knife, Coeulle said.

Suspect Makes Insanity Plea

Pierre Bereni Asks For Jury Trial in Shooting Cases

KENOSHA (AP)—Pierre Bereni, 20, pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity Monday to charges of attempted murder in the shooting of a former girl friend and a Kenosha policeman.

Bereni requested a jury trial when brought before County Judge Harry V. Carlson. The case was continued indefinitely and bail set at $25,000.

Bereni is accused of shooting Nancy Knudson, 18, and patrolman Cyril Ellison, 43, March 27. Ellison had gone to Miss Knudson's aid, police said, when she was threatened after spurning Bereni's reconciliation attempt.

Drama Tour Planned For Guthrie Theater

Green Bay UW Center Behind Weekend In Minneapolis to See Four Plays

BY JINGO
Attention, all theater lovers. Attention, all adventurers. Attention, all who like to travel with stimulating company. The University of Wisconsin Extension Center at Green Bay is making an offer you will find hard to refuse.

The nub of this offer is the brand new Tyrone Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis, the exciting adjunct to the cultural life of the United States in general and the Midwest in particular.

Early this month, the theater opened for a summer-long repertory season of four classic plays. While reviews were mixed on the plays—generally favorable, however, — the Tyrone Guthrie Theater got a rave press. Next door to the Walker Art Gallery near one of Minneapolis' many beautiful parks, the theater is the last word in design. It seats nearly 2,000, but no part of the audience is more than 52 feet from the new free-form, three-sided stage.

A tremendous community effort brought this theater into existence with a campaign that gathered something like $2 million and the effort seems to be continuing since a good part of the season was sold out before the doors were open.

The Green Bay UW Center gets into the act by making possible a truly fabulous package of education, entertainment and excitement. This is it. The Center calls the package a Living Drama Seminar. On the evenings of July 23 and 25, Leora C. Rudolph of the Center's English department and Jack E. Frisch of the Center's speech and drama department will meet with members of the seminar to discuss Moliere's "The Miser," Arthur Miller's "Death of a Salesman," Shakespeare's "Hamlet" and Chekhov's "Three Sisters" in the light of the Tyrone Guthrie productions in Minneapolis.

After the evenings of preparatory talks, the members of the seminar on July 26 will board chartered buses with Minneapolis as their destination. That evening they will attend the Guthrie Theater production of "The Miser." The next afternoon they will see "Death of a Salesman" and that evening, it will be "Hamlet." On the afternoon of July 28, they will see "Three Sisters" before boarding the buses for home.

Discussing Periods
The added attraction of the tour will be the stimulating post-mortem discussions after each play.

Mrs. Rudolph, wife of the Post-Crescent News Service Green Bay reviewer Jack Rudolph, and Frisch, the man who brought dramatic excitement with him during his tour of duty at the Fox Valley UW Center, are more than competent guides and mentors. Their lives are wrapped up in the theater and their love for the stage is intoxicating and contagious.

Four performances by a superb Burbank, Calif., the Tonight cast of stars in a quartet of master dramas during an excursion Brown, Kirk Douglas, Inger Stevens of exquisite possibilities is a commons, Kay Stevens, Milton Berle bination difficult to price since and Maury Wills. (Color)

Lawrence College Sets Schedule for Days Before Commencement

Three-Day Schedule of Lectures, Fine Arts Performances Planned

A three-day schedule of lectures, performances in the fine arts and social events will precede Lawrence College's 114th commencement June 9.

The weekend's activities begin with three meetings of the Alumni Association on Friday, June 7. A symposium on "Man in the 20th Century: How He Is Influenced", is scheduled from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in Harper Hall of the Music-Drama Center. Participants will be Dr. Sumner S. Kline, now a doctoral candidate at the University of Minnesota, who has made two trips to the Antarctic; and Mrs. James Buchanan, chairman of the continuing education committee of the Law-rence Alumni Association.

The second Alumni College event will be an illustrated lecture by Dr. Joan Freeman, '53, Hotel, and an 8:30 p.m. concert of anthropology for the commencement in Memorial State Historical Society of Wis-

Temperatures Will be Near or below freezing to north in the northern Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley. Showers are expected in the eastern Great Lakes region. (AP Wirephoto Map)

No Settlement In Strike

Union Claims No Contract in Effect, Firm Says There Is

WAUPACA — The possibility of settling the strike against the Harold P. Dushek Trucking Co. depends on the owner of the trucking firm, Gerald Arnold, Stevens Point, union secretary-treasurer and business agent, said Monday afternoon.

Dushek said he is working under provisions of an unsigned contract and that negotiations are not due until October. He would not comment further.

Fourteen of the 18 drivers for the trucking firm went on strike at midnight Saturday. Arnold said 12 of the 15 members at the meeting voted for the strike.

The union, International Brotherhood of Teamsters Chauffeurs, Warehousemen and Helpers, General Drivers and Helpers Local No. 354, Stevens Point, is requesting a signed contract.

Arnold said the local union never had a contract with Harold Dushek, owner of the trucking firm, since the union was organized in 1953. Dushek said he never had signed a contract, but lived within the terms of the contract as outlined by the union.

Arnold maintained no contract was in existence as long as it was not signed by Dushek.

One of the points of contention is the proposed change in the wage schedule from an hourly rate to a mileage rate. The union, according to Arnold, wants seven cents per mile for the drivers.

Arnold said pickets will not attempt to stop non-union drivers or interfere with the four union members who are continuing to drive for the Dushek firm.

Another point of contention, vacation pay, has been verbally resolved, Arnold explained. He maintained, however, the strikers will hold out for a signed agreement.

The strikers are not actively picketing the firm. They have a strike signs fastened to several of their cars and are across the street from the Dushek firm.

Arnold said the union has asked the National Labor Relations Board to mediate the differences.

phony Orchestra under the direction of Kenneth Byler, plus soloists from the senior class.

Soloists will be Phyllis Singletary, oboe; Beloit; Jean Lewis, organ; Oshkosh; Virginia Montgomerly Melin, viola, Oxford, Ohio; Phyllis Kercher, piano, Park Ridge, Ill.; and Celoris Hackbart, piano, Poynette.

The Phi Beta Kappa breakfast at Russell Sage Hall will lead off Saturday's events, followed by the continuation of the "Man in the Twentieth Century" symposium at 9:15 a.m. in Harper Hall. At noon, the traditional all-college luncheon will be at Alexander Gymnasium, and the afternoon will be occupied with a reception by President and Mrs. Douglas M. Knight and an outdoor concert by the Lawrence Band, directed by Fred Schroeder, and featuring conductors from the senior class.

Alumni reunion dinners will be so large this year that they will be divided between three locales. The classes of 1913 and 1923, with Mrs. Karl Haugen, Appleton, and Paul Conrads, Rockford, Ill., as chairmen respectively, will meet in Colman Hall. The class of 1938, under the leadership of Clifford Burton, Neenah; Robert DeLong, Neenah; and Perry Peterson, Cleveland, Ohio, will be at the Manor House. The remaining groups will be at Riverview Country Club: 1943—Mrs. James Buchanan, Neenah; Mrs. Robert Shockey, Neenah; and Mrs. William Sickman, Appleton; 1953—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haumerson, Racine; Mr. and Mrs. Don Sturtevant, Appleton; and 1958—Charles Fisher, Appleton and Lt. David Weese, Selfridge Air Force Base, Michigan.

A performance of Ionesco's "The Bald Soprano" directed by senior John Klinkert, Milwaukee, will be given at 8 p.m. Saturday in Stansbury Theater.

The baccalaureate service is scheduled for 10:45 a.m. Sunday in Memorial Chapel with the Right Reverend Charles E. Benison, '39, bishop of the Episcopal Diocese of Western Michigan, as speaker. An outdoor commencement will present President Douglas M. Knight in his last public appearance as head of Lawrence College. An informal reception for graduates will be held in Memorial Union immediately following the awarding of degrees.

Chicago Widow Is Charged in Antigo Killing

ANTIGO (AP)—Mrs. Barbara Tobin, 59, a Chicago widow, was charged with manslaughter Monday in the shooting of a 66-year-old house guest after an argument which started in a tavern.

The charge was filed while the woman was held under guard at an Antigo hospital. She suffered a bullet wound in the left hand.

Newcomb Palmer of Chicago was shot to death at Mrs. Tobin's summer home at Lily, about 20 miles northeast of Antigo, early Saturday. Authorities said one of three shots fired from a .38 caliber pistol struck the woman in the hand.

Marion Businessman Dies on Fishing Trip

MARION—Raymond C. Mayne, 66, proprietor of Mayne Auto Sales, died Sunday while on a fishing trip in northern Wisconsin.

He was born Dec. 20, 1896, in Grant County. Mayne came to Marion in 1919 and did garage work. He entered a used car dealership in 1921 and in 1934 organized the present firm.

Survivors include the widow, four sons, a daughter, 12 grandchildren, a sister and two brothers.

Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at Community Methodist Church with the Rev. Marvin Baker presiding at Masonic rites. Burial will be in the church cemetery. Friends may call at Ottumark Funeral Home after noon today.

Edmund Bank Robbers Plead To Charges

MADISON (AP)—A 49-year-old Friendship resident, who authorities said had an 18-year-old girl as an accomplice in a bank hold-up in the Iowa County community of Edmund last month, pleaded guilty Monday to armed robbery.

U.S. District Judge Kenneth Grubb ordered a presentence investigation for Thomas A. Brownie, and Margaret Ann Converse, of Grand Marsh, after the couple appeared in Federal Court. Brownie entered a guilty plea and the young girl a no-contest plea.

Traced by Car
Bank officials said that $1,636 was taken in the holdup. The couple was traced through an automobile found abandoned near the robbery scene. Both were picked up in South Dakota.

Judge Grubb placed Mrs. Lois Wright, 42, a former Eau Claire bank teller, on probation for two years after she pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzlement. The woman was accused of being $30 short in her accounts at the American National Bank and Trust Co.

Madison Man Heads Bar

MADISON (AP)—The new president-elect of the State Bar of Wisconsin is Lyall T. Beggs of Madison, a former state assemblyman.

Beggs was elected by mail ballot. George A. Solrud of Madison, chairman of the election committee, said Monday that more than 60 per cent of the eligible lawyers voted.

Beggs will become president in June, 1964.

Other officers elected were Frank D. Hamilton of Dodgeville, secretary; John Cashman of Manitowish, treasurer; and Theron P. Pray of Ashland, member of the Judicial Council.

Hemophilia Foundation Schedules Meeting at Milwaukee Sunday

The annual state-wide spring meeting of the Wisconsin District Midwest chapter of the National Hemophilia Foundation will be at 1 p.m. Sunday at McCarthy Park, Milwaukee.

An authority on the subject of bleeders, Dr. Armand J. Quick, will head the list of speakers. Dr. Quick is a biochemist at Marquette University.

Other speakers will discuss the dangers of performing dental work with children who have hemophilia; the problem of a vaccine for hemophilia, and the problems of blood procurement in Wisconsin. The meeting is open to the public.

Lawrence Given $1,000 Grant by Steel Foundation

Lawrence College has received a grant of $1,000 from the United States Steel Foundation, Inc., as a part of a larger award made to the Wisconsin Foundation of Independent Colleges. It is for unrestricted operating aid.

The United States Steel Foundation's program this year made grants totalling $2,480,000 to 766 liberal arts colleges, universities and institutes, as well as to 26 organizations dedicated to raising the quality of teaching and learning in America.

Anti-Castro Radio Begins Broadcasting From Inside Cuba

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Anti-Castro broadcasters broke in on an amateur radio band Monday and announced they were transmitting from inside Cuba.

The broadcast came from a newly formed alliance of exile groups which announced last week it planned to make daily transmissions to Cuba on the 40-meter band from a station "somewhere in the Caribbean."

Peking Looks on Russia as Loved Teacher Gone Astray

If Soviets Are in China, They Aren't Readily Seen by People

BY RICHARD P. LISTER

PEKING (AP)—To go to China, be gaiety but it is Puritan. ex-pressed in energetic dances and anti-imperialist songs. There is no space for night clubs, gambling dens or dance halls. Chang may go out in the evening to the opera or a play or to some doctrinal go-round but he is back home in bed not long after ten o'clock.

Friendly, Gay

And yet, where Russia may often seem grim or hostile. China as often seems friendly and gay. Why? Not the system, certainly. China's regime is probably the stricter. It may lie in the people themselves, moulded to a less rugged pattern than the Russians by a mellow climate and a long tradition of civilization.

Russia has transformed its drab scene with consumer goods in recent years. The contrast in China views. The Chinese simply know things in the Chinese shop windows but the monotony is oppressive. The same shirts, the same pipes, bicycles, cigarette lighters, face towels, are to be found in every shopping street in every town in China. Luxury goods of exquisite design and workmanship can also be purchased freely but to the ordinary Chinese they are hardly even a hypothetical interest. When a bicycle or a radio costs two and a half months' wages, a TV set (nine-inch screen) seven months' wages, and a man must work for nine days for the price of a pair of leather shoes, he does not think about buying Buddhas.

Moscow Looks Luxurious

In contrast to this austerity, the scene in Moscow looks more and more like the luxurious West. Is it the slackening of pure Communist standards, or merely a sign of the national character? For in-our friends they would not come to see us. The fact that official Chinese eyes see Western governments as "predatory imperialists" seems to make no difference.

Whether it has anything to do with the scarcity of foreigners or not, a further point gradually reveals itself: The ignorance of the Chinese concerning the West is almost total. A Chinese who traveled with our group naturally developed a sense of belonging to us and thus a feeling of confidence. At last he hesitantly asked an unforgettable question. He clearly did not want to make the friendly foreigner lose face but he simply had to know: "Tell me," he asked, "in your country, can you still buy a slave?"

Cooper Arrives in Washington for Big Day of Ceremonies

Medal From President and Talk to Congress Schedules

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Gordon Cooper flew to the capital today to pick up a medal from President Kennedy, receive the cheers of his fellow countrymen packed along a parade route, and tell Congress how it feels to orbit the earth 22 times.

The 36-year-old air force major, accompanied by his glowing wife and two pretty daughters, came by transport plane from Cape Canaveral, Fla., landing at Andrews Air Force Base at 10:37 a.m. EST.

NATO Leaders In Ottawa for Nuclear Talks

Prepared to Give Formal Approval To Compromise

OTTAWA (AP)—Statesmen of the 15 Atlantic pact powers gathered in Ottawa today to give formal approval to a compromise formula—approved by President Charles de Gaulle—permitting the formation of an allied nuclear force.

Delegates of France and several other countries said the formula would be set forth in the final communiqué of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's spring meeting of foreign and defense ministers. The three-day meeting opens Wednesday.

The formula leaves the force nameless and without a command structure of its own. The French said they would block the project if it was portrayed as something new, or extraordinary, or implying fresh commitments.

Major Provisions

The conference communiqué reportedly will say that:

1. Britain is assigning her entire 180-plane V-bomber force, complete with hydrogen bombs, to U.S. Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, Supreme Commander of Allied Forces in Europe.
2. The United States is assigning three nuclear-powered submarines, armed with Polaris missiles, to Lemnitzer.
3. These forces will augment tactical strike forces with a nuclear capacity.
4. Other actions are to be taken to improve liaison on nuclear weapons policy between all members of the alliance.

A British delegate observed:

"Gen. de Gaulle has decreed that this baby shall be nameless. Still it's hard for him to deny that it is a baby."

A Senior French official saw it another way:

"The assignment of American and British nuclear strike forces to SACEUR is just a bookkeeping operation, changing nothing."

"In a war they would have been available anyway."

"Giving them a name isn't going to make the Russians more frightened."

Outlook Brightens At Tariff Parley

U. S. and Common Market Delegates Virtually Agreed

GENEVA (AP)—U.S. and Common Market delegates said today they had reached virtual agreement on how to cut trade barriers in the Western world. A mood of optimism soared over the tariff conference which had been on the verge of failure.

The American delegation gave much of the credit to West German Vice Chancellor Ludwig Erhard who reportedly has been sticking up for American ideas in arguments with his Common Market partners.

A U.S. source said Washington has agreed to the European demand that some special rule be adopted for reducing American tariffs which are, in general, higher than European ones.

Smaller Differences

"So the differences between us now are small," said French Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing.

There was hope the conference, which began Thursday, would end today with adoption of a system of tariff negotiations by the conference of the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The European counter-proposal, followed a transatlantic telephone intervention by President Kennedy in an attempt to break the stalemate at the 73-nation ministerial conference sponsored by the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade.

The stalemate posed a grave threat to Kennedy's Trade Expansion Act of 1962, which previously had promised to be one of the major achievements of his administration.

The Common Market proposal was being submitted to Christian A. Herter, Kennedy's chief negotiator.

Proposal Not Disclosed

The Europeans refused to disclose the content of their proposal. American delegates had been annoyed Monday when another compromise offer was outlined to newsmen before it reached them.

The GATT conference was called in an attempt to agree on a tariff-cutting formula that would be worked out in detail at the negotiations scheduled to start next year.

The United States proposed uniform, across-the-board reductions of rates applied to all nations. The U.S. Trade Expansion Act provides that they can run as high as 50 per cent.

Negroes Expect to Increase Sit-ins As Result of High Court's Decision

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley, associate counsel of the NAACP's legal defense fund, told a news conference in New York Monday the decision would increase the desire of Negroes to be served in restaurants and other establishments.

She said this would lead to many more demonstrations throughout the nation.

Fox Valley Area Has Big Part In Program

Many Projects in Area Included in Governor's Plans

BY JOHN WYNGAARD
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

MADISON — Problems of traffic movement in his native Fox River Valley figured prominently in the "crash" program of main line highway construction recommended to the Legislature today by Gov. Reynolds.

In the boldest and biggest program for highway building ever proposed by a Wisconsin governor, Reynolds asked for these projects to facilitate motor vehicle traffic into, from and through the valley:

1. Construction of a freeway at a cost of about twenty million from the West Brown County line to Siamico, including the Green Bay belt-line to complete the four lane divided construction of Highway 41 from Milwaukee past Green Bay.
2. Construction of a second phase of the Lake Butte des Morts bridge on Highway 41 in Winnebago County, which is the only section of Highway 41 south of the Brown County line that is not now four laned.
3. Construction of Highway 141 from the Milwaukee County line to the junction with Highway 57 in Ozaukee County to freeway standards, "thus permitting travel on divided highways all the way from Chicago around Milwaukee into northeastern Wisconsin," as the governor put it.
4. Early completion of the west Expressway in Milwaukee County to join with Highway 41, to permit non-stop traffic from Chicago to the Fox River Valley.

Firemen's Job Issue Topic at Conference

WASHINGTON (AP)—The railroads and five operating unions take up the key question today of eliminating the jobs of locomotive firemen in a last ditch effort to settle their work rules fight before a June 12 strike deadline.

A relief attendant, Ralph Landis, found the body and the lions when he arrived at 5:30 a.m. Police said all the doors in the four-part cage were closed, which seemed unusual. Normally, both lions would have been put in one section and barred in, while the attendant cleaned the rest of the cage. Carey, however, was in the cage, Carey, however, was in the section with both lions.

The hose he had been using was still running in another section. Timba has been a trouble-maker. He had escaped from the cage a couple of times and once wrecked an office on the grounds. Each time he was caught on the grounds.

American Legion Won't Meet in New Orleans

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Segregation problems caused cancellation Monday of plans to hold the American Legion's 1963 national convention in New Orleans.

The legion's executive committee faced the task of finding a new site for the convention, which had been set for Sept. 6-12.

Louisiana legionnaires withdrew their invitation because of inability to guarantee unsegregated facilities for delegates.

Maybe It's Time to Fire the Weatherman

FOX CITIES—Cloudy and colder tonight with showers. Clearing late tonight. Low tonight, 35. High Wednesday, in the mid-50s. Partly cloudy and cooler Wednesday. Light northerly winds.

Appleton — Observations at 9 a.m. today. Temperatures for the 24-hour period: high, 68; low, 41. Wind velocity: 17 miles an hour from the west. Barometer reading: 29.60 and steady. Relative humidity: 71 per cent. Dew point: 35. Temperature: 47. Rainfall: .13 inch. Sleet: trace. Skies: cloudy.

Urges Group Which Can Borrow $360 Million; New Auto, Truck License Fees

MADISON (AP) — A joint session of the Legislature heard Gov. John W. Reynolds unveil today a $500 million program for completing seven years of highway construction in two.

The proposal, labeled "Project 66," would build 502 miles of interstate and other 4-lane highways by the end of 1966 instead of the present planned 88 miles.

There are two keys to the program outlined by Reynolds:

Formation of a Wisconsin Freeway Development Commission with authority to borrow some $360 million.

Increased auto and truck license fees to bring in an additional $15 million annually.

Concentrating these funds on the interstate and other 4-lane systems would free some $100 million now earmarked for the purpose which would be used on 93 other projects scattered throughout the state, Reynolds said.

In his detailed presentation, Reynolds outlined these objectives for "Project 66":

Completion of the interstate system by 1966, much of it in 1964-65.

4-Lane Highway

Completion of the Milwaukee Expressway system except for the central interchange and North-South expressway, which will be finished in 1967.

Upgrading to four lane, divided highways: Highway 12 from the Illinois line to the Interstate in Dane County; Highway 15 from

Negroes Fight Expulsion of 1,000 Pupils

SAY THEY WILL GO TO U. S. COURT TO VOID BOARD'S ORDER

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (AP) — Negro leaders say they will go to federal court in efforts to void a Birmingham school board order to expel or suspend more than 1,000 Negro pupils who demonstrated against segregation.

The school board's action Monday was not unexpected, and Negro leaders said they planned to fight the move only by legal means.

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said on his return from Atlanta, "We will not call for a mass walkout or boycott of the schools, nor will we call for a renewal of demonstrations at this point."

No "Unwise Act"

After a meeting with other integration leaders, King said, "We will not seek to correct an unwise act by moving hastily into another unwise act."

The decision by the Negro leaders saved a shaky biracial agreement which had been threatened by the school board's handling of the dispute.

"We know there are certain forces in Birmingham trying to sabotage this agreement," King said.

He called the board's action "a tragic move, immoral . . . a dastardly act."

In a letter to school principals Supt. Theo Wright ordered immediate expulsion of pupil participants over 16 and suspension of those under 16. It affects 1,081 pupils arrested in protest marches over the past several weeks.

A school board spokesman said the action was in keeping with the board's policy on truancy.

Zoo Attendant Killed While in Cage With Lion

BINGHAMTON, N.Y. (AP)—A lion mangled an attendant today in a cage at Ross Park Zoo. Police shot the lion as it clung to the lifeless body.

Two lions were in the cage with the attendant, Guy E. Carey, 43, but zoo officials absolved the timid female lion, Tina, and blamed the unruly male, Timba. Tina merely covered when police arrived.

Police saw little possibility that Carey had died naturally before being attacked.

A relief attendant, Ralph Landis, found the body and the lions when he arrived at 5:30 a.m. Police said all the doors in the four-part cage were closed, which seemed unusual. Normally, both lions would have been put in one section and barred in, while the attendant cleaned the rest of the cage. Carey, however, was in the section with both lions.

Before TV, Children Kept Busy by Playing Variety of Games Outside

BY CHARLES HOUSE
Post-Crescent Staff Writer

At the risk of boring everyone in the whole world, or at least this corner of it, I have decided that I would embark this column into a series of articles on the subject of the games that children played when children knew how to play—before TV.

House home," he said.

I was stimulated into considering such a series of articles by a friend whose children are already bored with summer-time inactivities.

Other things prodded me, too. For example, when I brought home a spinning top for my kids, I was horrified to learn that they didn't know how to spin a top. I was also surprised to overhear one of my sons explaining the top to a friend of his who had never seen one.

"It's an old-fashioned toy my dad brought home," he said.

Whiz at Marbles

Then, when I looked into neighborhood activities, I was amazed to discover that the kids around here may know how to play marbles, but that they all shoot "fudge knuckle" with the result that I can beat every kid in the block.

Trouble is, though, that they are all ne'er-do-well nub players and refuse to play "for keeps." It takes the sting out of the ancient game and renders it suitable for sissie-pants but not for man-boys.

Some of the games we played were low key games but everyone played them. Besides, most of them were some form of basic training in elements which might make children more adroit, more adept at adult pursuits.

The girls played jacks and the game gave whole generations of ladies quick, adept, nimble fingers. Exercise games were not as rough nor as violent as those the boys played, but they served and they amused and they taught rhythm.

One of them was the simple bouncing of a rubber ball and the incantation of a song—"O'Leary." The girls bounced a ball rhythmically and sang "One—two—three—O'Leary—four—five—six—O'Leary." It seems to me that every time the fictional O'Leary appeared in the chant, the ball-bouncer would lift a graceful foot over the bouncing ball.

Ball-Kicking Fun

Boys often played "Annie-Annie-Over" which was simply a placement game something like tennis. There would be two teams—however many kids as showed up—and one would stand on one side of a house or a barn, the other team would form on the opposite side.

Taking turns, each boy would shout in his turn, "Annie-Annie-Over!" Then he would have the ball over the rooftop, trying to place it where the other team might not catch it. If, however, the other team caught the ball, they, in turn, would throw it back. When a team missed catching the ball it was a point against it.

One version of the game was to run the ball back to the opponents' side after it had been caught, touching it to the ground in enemy territory. This coup earned two points.

Girls jumped rope incessantly; boys hardly ever did. But, as usual, the girls would have a chant, some doggerel verse which probably dated back hundreds of years into history. Many of these sing-song chants are still sung when and if girls still jump rope and I think they do. One of the songs was this:

"Grace, Grace, dressed in lace, Washed her hands but forgot her face.

Another was: Teddy bear, Teddy bear, turn around.

Teddy bear, Teddy bear, touch the ground.

Teddy bear, Teddy bear, climb the stair.

Teddy bear, Teddy bear, touch your hair.

Another: Mabel, Mabel, set the table. Don't forget the salt, vinegar, mustard.

And red hot... pepper! The latter was—perhaps still is—a gradually speeded up exercise which, by the time "pepper" was reached, the rope was turned full soed.

Another: I love coffee, I love tea I love the boys if the boys love me.

More Rope Rhymes

And here are still more, pulled from the memory of friends and from other sources.

Down by the river, down by the sea, Johnnie broke a bottle and blamed it unto me.

I told ma, ma told pa. And Johnnie got a licking, ha, ha, ha!

This verse was endless, or almost endless, depending upon the skill of the jumper. A question was always posed at the end: "How many lickings did Johnnie get?" And then there would come a long count—at least until the rope-jumper missed.

Not last night, but the night before Twenty-four robbers came to my door.

They said, "Lady, lady, lady, touch the ground, 'Lady, lady, lady, turn around

And here are still more, pulled from the memory of friends and from other sources.

Some Openings Remain in Navy 'Braves' Company

Young men interested in applying for enlistment in the "1963 Milwaukee Braves Navy Recruit Company" must complete their applications not later than Friday.

Response to the special recruiting drive has been extremely good throughout the Milwaukee Navy Recruiting District, which includes Wisconsin and the upper peninsula of Michigan, the Navy said, but it added that a limited number of men still can be accepted provided applications are received before Friday.

Designed to give men from this area the opportunity to enlist and train together, the "1963 Braves Company" is being formed with the cooperation of the Milwaukee Braves Baseball Club. Members of the company will be sworn into the Navy during ceremonies preceding the Braves-Houston baseball game at County Stadium in Milwaukee on May 31.

Arkansas Only State Where Diamonds Are

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas advertises itself as a bonanza for rock collectors. A specimen of almost every kind of rock found in the U.S. can be found in the state.

And Arkansas is the only state in which the diamond can be found. One hundred mineral specimens have been found in the Magnet Cove area near Hot Springs.

Football, Basketball Players Cited at Washington High School Awards Day

Letters, Citations Presented to Youths Active in School Groups

NEW LONDON — Several major athletic awards were presented to Washington High School football and basketball players at an awards day program Monday afternoon.

The program, originally scheduled for Friday night, was postponed because of conflicting schedules.

Joe Prohaska was awarded the Jim Bodoh Award for being the outstanding senior athlete and Terry Dorschner, a sophomore was awarded the Jerry Price Memorial Award for being the most improved athlete.

In the most valuable player department, Ken Eggert was selected by his basketball teammates; Gary Glock was chosen the most valuable football player, and Tom Hussin was selected the most valuable member of the track squad.

Faculty Honor

Not only students were honored at the program. The single honor bestowed upon a faculty member was the dedication of the annual to Miss Kathleen Voss.

The School Spirit Cup which is presented to the class voted to have the most spirit was won by the Sophomore class with Dan Clarke, first year letters, Juniors Wright, class president receiving Jim Langner, third year letter the trophy on behalf of the class, and Don Walrath first year. ## 3 Chilton Girls Selected From 38 In Nation for Scholarships

CHILTON — Three of some 38 new $850 Elbridge A. Stuart Scholarships awarded this year by the Carnation Co. in the United States and Canada have gone to Chilton High School students.

The grants, for the 1963-64 college term, went to Gretchen Bloomer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mel Bloomer; Margaret Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nelson; and Diane Woelfel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woelfel. The winners are high school seniors.

Miss Bloomer will enter the St. Agnes School of Nursing, Fond du Lac; Margaret Nelson plans to attend the University of Wisconsin as a mathematics and chemistry major. Diane Woelfel will enter Alverno College, Milwaukee, as an English major.

The three girls are daughters of Carnation Co. employees working at the Chilton plant.

In all, 85 of the $850 grants were awarded this year by the firm in honor of its founder and first president, Elbridge A. Stuart. About 47 of these were renewals, however, leaving about 38 new scholarships.

Awards are made on the basis of character, scholarship record, leadership and seriousness of purpose.

150 to Sing at Vocal Concert

WAUPACA — The vocal music department of the Waupaca school district, under the direction of Gerald Knoepfel, will present its annual spring concert at 8:15 p.m. today in the high school gymnasium.

About 150 students will be taking part in the three choirs. Selections will be presented by the 47-voice high school mixed chorus, the 70-voice junior high school mixed chorus and the 28-voice seventh grade boys chorus.

The groups will sing religious, negro spiritual, folk, contemporary and light secular music. Each group also will sing selections of music festival in Tigerton. The concert will close with two selections by the combined voices of the choirs with an instrumental accompaniment. The accompanists are Barbara Locker and Barrington, Janet Graves, Lana Johnson and Carolyn Bellie. Sue Luedtke and Ardyse Hilker each received a gold bar library award.

Hilbert Triumphs, 2-1, In Tournament Opener

Francis Wolf Wins Duel From Reedsville's Klann

CHILTON — The Hilbert Wolves gained a berth in Thursday's championship contest of the WIAA District baseball tournament here by edging Reedsville, 2-1, Monday afternoon.

The 8 p.m. clash between Stockbridge and Hilbert was called in the second inning with Stockbridge leading 1-0 on the strength of Gib Schoen's 395 foot home run. It has been rescheduled for 5:15 p.m. today.

In the opener, Hilbert's Francis Wolf and Reedsville's Gene Klann hooked up in a tight pitchers' duel with Wolf emerging the victor. Klann issued only three walks but two of them led to Hilbert runs. Reedsville outbit the winners 4-2.

Hilbert's first run came in the fourth when Ken Plate walked, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on a double by Don Federwitz. Reedsville tied it up in the fifth on a walk to Glen Griepentrog and singles by Howard Stelzer and Dick Diener.

The winning run crossed the plate in the bottom of the fifth without the benefit of a base hit. Bob Pruess walked, stole second, went to third on an infield out and scored when the catcher's pitch got past Klann.

Both hurlers went the distance. Wolf struck out 10 and walked three to gain the victory. Klann fanned seven and walked three. He allowed only two hits. Howard Stelzer got two hits to lead Reedsville at the plate.

Saints Clip Chilton AC's

Score Three Runs In First on Way To 5-1 Victory

CHILTON — The St. Cloud Saints jumped on Chilton AC starter Bob Benun for three runs in the first inning as the Saints posted a 5-1 win over Chilton in an Eastshore League tilt here Sunday.

The first Saint run came when leadoff man Chuck Hochrein blasted a homer. Tom Klinzing's triple accounted for another and Klinzing scored the final run of the inning. St. Cloud added insurance runs in the second and sixth innings.

Chilton collected seven hits and had six more base runners on walks off St. Cloud starter and winner Don Eiring but could fashion only one run. It came in the seventh on singles by Skip Schmucklofer and Wayne Pagel and an infield error.

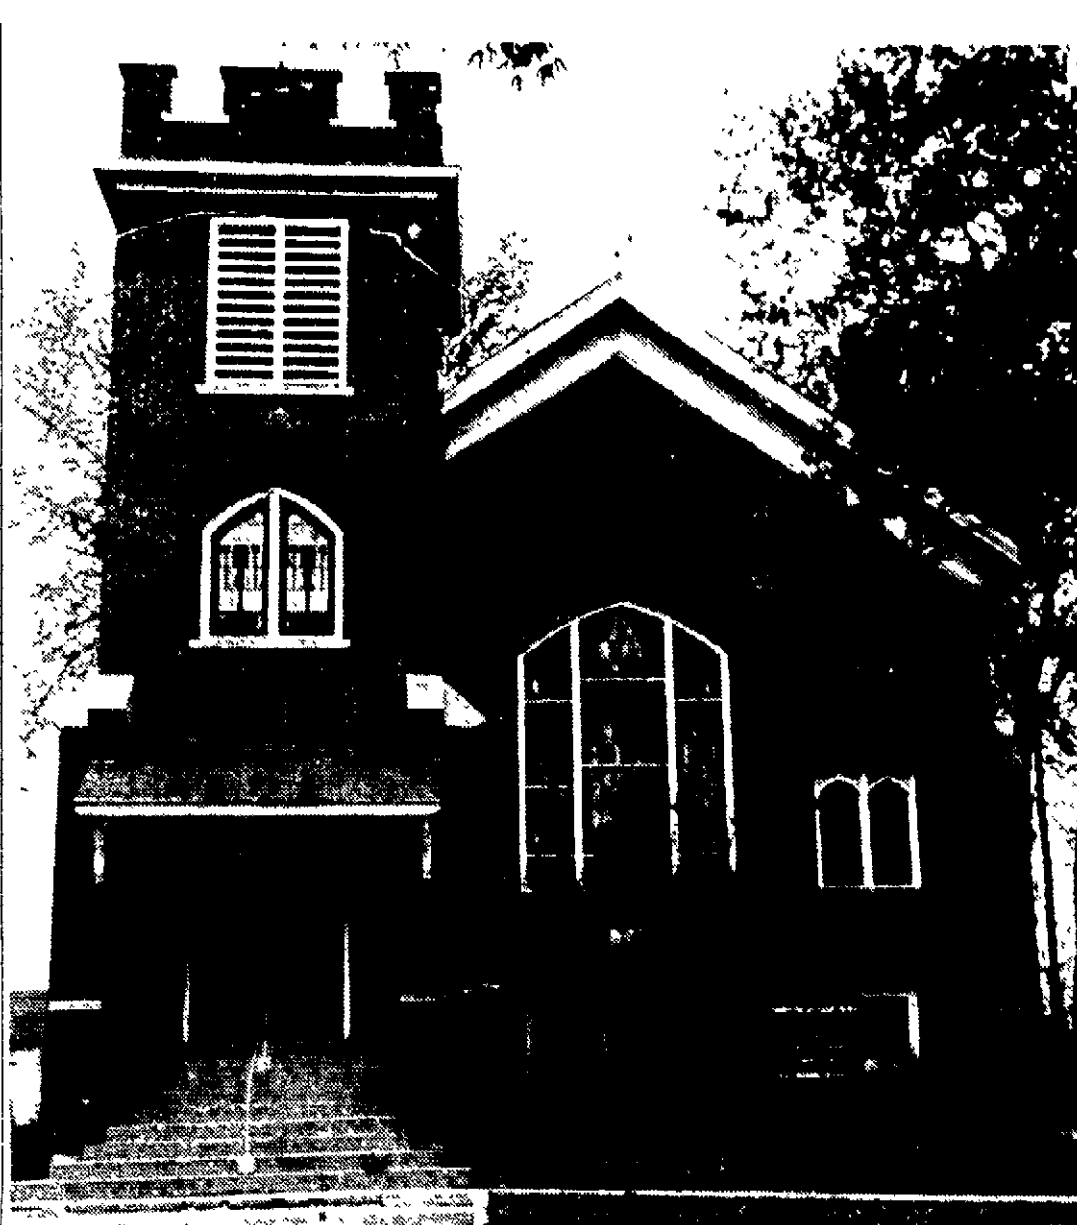

Fans Nine Eiring went the distance and was credited with the win. He gave up seven hits, six walks and the one Chilton run. He fanned nine Chilton batters.

Benning also went the full route and was pinned with the loss. He was nicked for nine hits, and five runs. He walked four and struck out seven.

The AC's travel to Johnsonburg Sunday.

Trinity Presbyterian Congregation To Have 50th Anniversary Sunday

Six Original Members of Parish at Special Half-Century Celebration

CHILTON — Trinity Presbyterian Church here observed a half-century of service to its parishioners at a dinner and special anniversary worship service Sunday evening.

Six parishioners whose membership in the congregation is as long as the congregation is old, were honored. They are Mrs. Mollie Kroehne, Earl Kroehne, Mrs. Arthur Lintner, Mrs. Nick Grootzinger, Mrs. Marianna Rathert and Adelbert Roll.

A dinner at 6:30 p.m. in the church hall opened the observance. It was followed by 7:30 p.m. services in the church. The Rev. David J. Griffith, Trinity Presbyterian Church, Milwaukee, the son of a former pastor here, the Rev. Dr. William Griffith, was the guest speaker. The topic of his sermon was "The Rock of Ages."

Two other former pastors and their wives were guests of the congregation. The Rev. Carl J. Glittenberg, who served the parish briefly during the 1920's, and the Rev. J. M. Ayres, pastor for seven years from 1936 to 1943, were able to attend. The Rev. Mr. Ayres is now living at Rochelle, Ill., and the Rev. Mr. Glittenberg and his wife are mission representatives at large. They returned from China and are living at Racine.

Pastor's Letters
Chester Courtice, congregation clerk, read letters from other former pastors who were unable to attend the observance.

The congregation's history was presented by A. W. Larson. The presentation was part of the worship service.

The church building was the first Protestant house of worship built in the community, Larson stated. It was constructed in the 1880's and was a non-demonstration Union Church used by various Protestant faiths in building's early years.

A unique facet of the building's history was related by Larson. He said that the late Mrs. John P. Hume raised some of the money for the original construction by selling bricks door-to-door in the city at a dollar apiece.

The Congregational Christians took over the church in 1889 and the congregation flourished until 1908. A Sunday School Association was then organized and it kept the church in operation until the Presbyterian congregation was organized on April 3, 1913. The Sunday School Association was not affiliated with a denomination.

Meeting Place
The State Bank "parlor" served as the meeting place for organization of the fledgling congregation. A young minister, the Rev. L. T. Hardin, led the gathering in organizational matters and in prayer and at the conclusion of the meeting, 23 persons subscribed their names in membership.

WNAM Radio Changes Hands, Sold to Newly Formed Company

NEENAH — Radio Station WNAM, Neenah, has been purchased by Don C. Wirth, general manager of the station, and James A. McKenna Jr., WNAM's Washington D.C., legal counsel, according to an announcement today by S. N. Pickard, president of the Neenah-Menasha Broadcasting Co.

The station will change hands upon the approval of the Federal Communications Commission, Pickard said. An application was filed today with the FCC in Washington, D.C. The purchase price was not revealed.

In announcing the change, Pickard said, "Since WNAM was originally established, the station has been dedicated to rendering a public service to the people of this area and has adhered strictly to a policy of quality radio programming and performance."

"This record has been achieved largely because of the capable management of Don C. Wirth. Consequently, it is appropriate and I am pleased to see Mr. Wirth accorded this recognition and the opportunity to acquire an interest in the ownership of WNAM."

"McKenna, who will join in the venture as an associate and partner of Wirth, is an outstanding figure in radio and television with a broad background and experience in this field."

"This combination of able and talented leadership will assure a continuance of the high grade direction of WNAM."

McKenna has been the station's legal counsel in Washington since 1948. He is senior partner in the law firm of McKenna and Wilkins, which specializes in practice before the FCC.

He will continue his residency in Washington.

McKenna also owns Radio Station KEVE in Minneapolis and WGBM in Harrisburg, Pa.

Wirth has been associated with WNAM as vice president and general manager since Dec. 1, 1946, when he came to Neenah to begin construction of the station.

McKenna will be president, treasurer and a director of the new company, WNAM, Inc. Wirth will be vice president, general manager and a director; R. D. Molzow, Neenah attorney, will be secretary and Pickard will be a director.

WNAM is in final stages of testing a new 5,000 watt transmitter, which is expected to be on the air permanently during daytime hours with 5,000 watts within the next ten days, station officials said.

The present 1,000 watt transmitter will continue to be used at night.

The station will have been on the air 16 years as of Thursday

Peking Looks on Russia as Loved Teacher Gone Astray

If Soviets Are in China, They Aren't Readily Seen by People

BY RICHARD P. LISTER

PEKING (AP)—To go to China, you stop in Moscow on the way and again on the way back. It's a good chance to look at the Red giants, old and new.

Every major city in China has its Sino-Soviet Hall of Friendship. The halls remain, but where is the friendship? Ivan, carved in stone, stands shoulder to shoulder with Chang outside, but flesh-and-blood Ivan, if he is in China at all, is not readily to be seen. The Chinese look on Soviet Russia as a loved and respected teacher who has gone astray. They're sad about it but they're not going to hudge an inch in their views. The Chinese simply know that they have the right answer. It is the Russians who erred.

Second of Series

The difference in atmosphere between Moscow and Peking is sensed immediately. China is still in the first stages of its revolution. Everyone must have enough to eat and enough to wear, but there is little room for luxury. Much hard work is needed still to achieve ambitious aims. There can be gaiety but it is Puritan, expressed in energetic dances and anti-imperialist songs. There is no space for night clubs, gambling dens or dance halls. Chang may go out in the evening to the opera or a play or to some doctrinal ground but he is back home in bed not long after ten o'clock.

Friendly, Gay

And yet, where Russia may often seem grim or hostile, China as often seems friendly and gay. Why? Not the system, certainly; China's regime is probably the stricter. It may lie in the people themselves, moulded to a less rugged pattern than the Russians by a mellow climate and a long tradition of civilization.

Russia has transformed its drab scene with consumer goods in recent years. The contrast in China is striking. There are plenty of things in the Chinese shop windows but the monotony is oppressive. The same shirts, the same teacup, the same hairbrushes, pipes, bicycles, cigarette lighters, face towels, are to be found in every shopping street in every town in China. Luxury goods of exquisite design and workmanship can also be purchased freely but to the ordinary Chinese they are hardly even a hypothetical interest. When a bicycle or a radio costs two and a half months' wages, and a man must work for nine days for the price of a pair of leather shoes, he does not think about buying jade Buddhas.

Moscow Looks Luxurious

In contrast to this austerity, the scene in Moscow looks more and more like the luxurious West. Is it the slackening of pure Communist standards, or merely a sign of the national character? For instance hordes of youths on the Moscow streets beg the tourist for ballpoint pens while in China you cannot even persuade a child to accept a piece of candy.

There's another striking difference. Chinese "face" seems more important than Russian "face." A Chinese waiter or porter will not accept a tip any more than a child a piece of candy. He is unwilling to consent to anything that puts him in an inferior position. This age-old sensitivity to any loss of prestige is reinforced in present-day China by a fear of public opinion.

In the West, the Smiths must keep up with the Joneses on motor cars, TV sets, washing machines; in China what worries Chang is that he may fall too far behind Chen in output per shift. It is only the citizen with a rare thick skin who backslides so far as to need more stringent "re-education."

Traveler a Rarity

The disinclination to accept favors from foreigners is accounted for to some extent by the sheer unfamiliarity with foreigners. The traveler in China is soon aware that he is a rarity. Once he goes more than ten yards from his hotel he is unlikely to see a Western face. He is stared at in frank curiosity. If he stops to buy something he is immediately wedged against the counter by a curious crowd. They stare and often they laugh. The chances are they're not being rude by their lights. Laughter itself can mean embarrassment. If you greet them with the universal "Ni Hao" (hello) they ni-hao back with enthusiasm and laugh even louder. On festive occasions, they are likely to fall back into orderly lines and applaud. The traveler claps back, Russian style.

The crowds, though curious, are neither suspicious nor hostile. These are our Western friends, they seem to say; if they were not our friends they would not come to see us. The fact that official Chinese eyes see Western governments as "predatory imperialists" seems to make no difference.

Whether it has anything to do with the scarcity of foreigners or with our group naturally developed a sense of belonging of itself. The ignorance of the Chinese concerning the West is all-asked an unforgettable question. "Tell me," he asked, "in your country, can you still buy a slave?" Next: The Gap

The Imbroglia at Madison

There appears to be virtually no chance for a settlement of the bitter quarrel at Madison between Gov. Reynolds and the Republican-controlled legislature on how to raise tax revenues to finance the gradually but steadily swelling state budget.

The Republicans who killed the governor's higher income tax bill, and then adopted a sales tax bill with credits in the face of a certain veto by Mr. Reynolds, have tentatively offered some concessions that the governor has totally ignored.

He slammed the door absolutely when he published his sales tax veto message and, in the style of a school-ground wiseacre, added that the only way Wisconsin will get a sales tax will be by "licking me."

How can there be compromise on this question of tax alternatives, when the governor curily and positively declares that he won't retreat until or unless he is forced to do so by the electorate?

The essence of compromise is give and take. The governor says he won't give. In his view, the legislature must give. The legislature, it appears reasonably certain, is not disposed to surrender and thus Wisconsin faces the kind of crisis that plagued our sister state of Michigan for so long under a similar division of political control in state affairs.

The tenor of the governor's messages and press comments hint broadly, meanwhile, that he is not at all worried about the prospect of unprecedented chaos in state financing.

There is some reason to believe, indeed, that he enjoys the outlook and sees in it some political gain for himself.

That would be the attitude of the gambler, the adventurer, with stakes that will be painfully expensive for the general public.

The governor has repeated ad infinitum his concern for the decent support of local schools. He has produced a motion picture film, with some distortions in it, to dramatize what he sees as the plight of the unfortunates in state mental institutions that will follow inadequate support of those hospitals. He has preached, almost tearfully, about the solemn responsibility to maintain high standards in the universities and colleges in spite of the crushing increases in their enrollments.

One might imagine that a man who feels as deeply about these needs as Mr. Reynolds says he does, would not insist on his own prejudices in tax policy and would show some inclination to meet his opponents half way.

But Mr. Reynolds declares, in language that is almost impudent, that all else must give before his narrow ideological convictions on taxing methods. Other Democrats in other states have enacted combinations of sales and income taxes. But by the Wisconsin governor's proclaimed definitions, these are reactionary and dishonorable men. He is pure of heart, even to the extent of threatening to wreck the state institutions and services he holds dear.

Sen. Hollander of the Republican caucus has several times suggested the willingness of his side to make concessions in the interest of a settlement that will be effective pending another submission of this fight to the electorate next year. But the governor has given no sign that he has heard. It must be his way, or no way. We are puzzled and disappointed, and believe that many of the governor's friends are privately wondering too.

Words Versus Deeds

If anyone thinks for a minute that the vast responsibilities of running the nation have changed President Kennedy's political habits, a telegram receiving considerable attention in New York should dispel the notion.

Charles Buckley is a member of the House of Representatives. He is also Democratic boss of the Bronx and a long time ward heeler who understands the Kennedy family brand of politics. At a recent dinner in his honor he received a laudatory telegram signed affectionately "Joe, Jack, Bobby and Teddy Kennedy."

The New York Times says editorially "we find it difficult to understand how the President of the United States can talk as eloquently as he does talk about good government, and yet lavish praise as warmly as he does upon Buckley of the Bronx. . . . As the President well knows, Charles A. Buckley represents, politically speaking, what is to be decried and deplored in this city, not promoted and protected. As boss of the Bronx, he is someone who should

No Time to Negotiate

Soviet Premier Khrushchev's absolute refusal to even consider any more concessions toward a nuclear test ban treaty, in notes to President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Macmillan, was not unexpected in diplomatic quarters. This is about the least auspicious time in years for Moscow to negotiate with the West on a test ban treaty or any other subject.

The Russians are about to sit down with the Red Chinese to discuss the Moscow-Peiping rift. One reason for that rift is the Chinese argument that there should be no negotiation with the West until the Communist world has clear military superiority and is in a position to impose its will. In fact the very word "negotiation" is regarded suspiciously in Peiping since negotiations normally produce concessions.

In the Chinese view, any compromise with the West tends to freeze the status quo and undo, possibly forever, all that the Communists have done to achieve a world reorganization along Leninist lines.

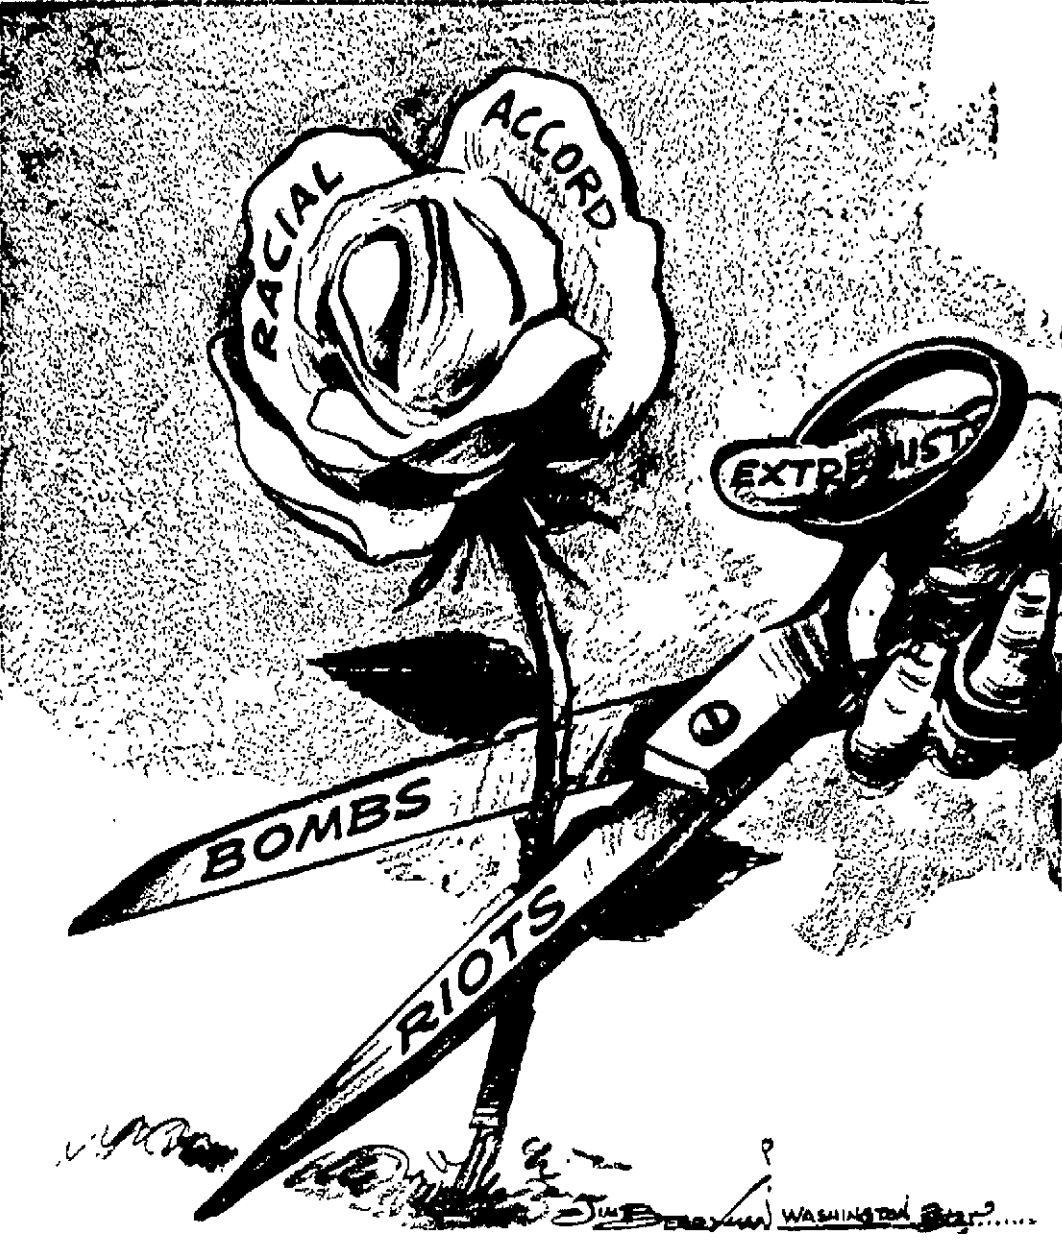

In the coming talks, supporters of the Khrushchev line of peaceful coexistence will try to persuade the Chinese that the Communist system has such virtues that the world eventually will accept it without the application of force which is unrealistic in this nuclear age. There appears little hope in Moscow that the Chinese will accept this position. But the Russians don't want to take any chance of compromising their position in advance of the talks.

A hard line toward the West from Moscow was therefore to be expected. The flamboyant welcome for Castro was a symbol of this mood. It served to indicate that Moscow still wants to broaden the scope of the Communist empire, but by infiltration rather than military action.

In the face of this, three small nuclear tests scheduled for late May at the Nevada nuclear test grounds were suddenly cancelled last week. Undoubtedly President Kennedy figured they would put us in a bad light at the test ban conference and might also have touched off a new series of Soviet tests.

It is very difficult to say arbitrarily what the U. S. posture should be under these circumstances. But we are becoming more and more convinced that the Kennedy foreign policy in many areas, including Cuba and Laos and Viet Nam, is to avoid pressing for decisions in the hope "that the problem will quietly fade away.

Joint Trash, Garbage Pickups, Incinerator Needed in Appleton

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Your article in this evening's paper comparing Appleton's trash problem to that of Los Angeles is incredulous to say the least and bordering on the asinine to be perfectly honest.

Since moving here from Green Bay three years ago, I have never been able to fathom the mathematics of a twice weekly garbage collection and a once a month trash collection. How does this compare with the Los Angeles situation?

I think I am safe in assuming that this makes the Appleton housewife the most wasteful in the United States.

To say that Mayor Mitchell is an observer at this time is an understatement since he is an observer at anytime until he is assured that an issue will provide votes to keep him in office.

Since it is obvious from the present standing of the Lake Michigan water proposition that the Fox Cities are not ready at this time to function as a unit, it is apparent that Appleton must solve this problem by itself.

I would think that the city of Appleton could afford to charter a bus to take the Mayor and the city council to Green Bay to see the city incinerator. I am sure that Mayor Dennison of Green Bay would be glad to conduct a tour and explain its operation and its costs of operation.

Since the operation of an incinerator requires trash including tins cans for proper function, it necessitates a once weekly garbage and trash collection; by simple mathematics this would eliminate the large once a month trash collection in Appleton. This savings could go a long way toward paying for an incinerator.

If it were located on the south side of Appleton it possibly could sell its services to Neenah and Menasha and Kaukauna, Kimberly and Little Chute. At the same time, it could be an enlightening demonstration of the power of a combined Fox Cities community project.

If the Fox Cities have the potential being attributed to them, let's start living up to it.

Xavier Wind Ensemble Praised for Artistry

Editor, Post-Crescent:

Enclosed you will find a copy of a letter which Brother Peter, director of Xavier High School, received concerning the Xavier wind ensemble and its recent trip to Cleveland to play at the opening of the National Catholic Music Educators' Convention.

As the parent of two members of the Xavier wind ensemble and as the vice president of the Xavier Band Parents, this letter is, of course, a source of great encouragement and pride to me.

I do, however, believe that this letter will be of interest to all the people of Appleton. The young men and women in the wind ensemble did represent our community at this large convention and the high praise they received does reflect on the whole community. For this reason, would you be able to print this letter in your "Voice of the People" column?

Also this would be another opportunity for us to give credit to teen-agers who are doing well. We read every day about teen-agers who have gone wrong. Maybe this letter from Sister Regina Therese will help to restore our confidence in our youth.

Mrs. Anton Vanderloop
727 W. Richmond St., Appleton.

Dear Brother Peter:

It has been my privilege to write many letters of gratitude to the principals, prefects, and directors of the schools in our Catholic educational system thanking them for their indulgence in sending representative organizations to participate in our National Catholic Music Educators Convention.

However, I find that I cannot really put down on paper all that I ought to say to you about the Xavier High School Band, whose appearance at our convention in Cleveland last week made music history! I thought I would try to quote verbatim some of the remarks which were directed to me, but then I would end up writing a small book. Musically, your group is in a class of its own, for no organization we ever engaged could surpass it. However, I believe what will give you the greatest satisfaction to hear is Bishop Clarence Elwell's comment about the Xavier High School Band. He said, "The beautiful tone quality we heard and the musicianship of the players is something unbelievable, but the spirituality which emanated from that group of young people on the stage was an experience which I never before felt."

Many other people remarked on the complete discipline evident in the personalities of the young ladies and gentlemen, and I am happy to be the one to tell you these things. I hope you will convey this information to their parents and teachers, for I am sure they will be very proud to know that their boys and girls achieved such an enviable reputation.

I know that Mr. Francis Scholtz is largely responsible for many of these things, and so I wish to express my thanks and congratulations to him also.

Sister Regina Therese, I.H.M. Chairman, NCMEA Instrumental Department Immaculata College, Immaculata, Pa.

Political Prejudices Of State's Voters Have Changed Over Years

BY JOHN WYNGAARD

MADISON — In the universal parlor chit-chat now going on about the political impact of Gov. Rockefeller's marriage after a divorce to a woman herself divorced, there is a tendency to agree that a wholly practical politician would not have done it.

Tut there is also a tendency for reflective thought, perhaps based on hope, that this is a form of prejudice that is less important in American politics today than it used to be and that it will probably evaporate as time goes on and other issues come to the fore to divide opinions on the candidates for the presidency next year.

In that connection, there may be some interesting and suggestive footnotes in local Wisconsin politics, possibly so familiar that they have escaped notice.

During the last decade two of the most successful politicians this state has produced recently ran brilliantly successful careers, after their divorces.

They won't be named here, since these matters are private. But to those who believe that divorce is an issue, their names will be recalled instantly. And those who are able to recall them won't be able to show very convincingly that these private matters were involved in their campaign acceptability.

One of them, moreover, it may be useful to note, was himself divorced with a good deal of publicity in mid-career, and then married a second wife who was also divorced.

CHANGING VIEWS

In support of the idea that the fact of divorce is no longer such a vulnerable question for the public man as it used to be are other changing notions about hazards of private affairs in political campaigns and ballot acceptance.

There is the old conception of political ticket balance, not only in a geographical but in an ethnic and religious sense.

Forty years ago the idea of having two United States senators from the same town — Madison — would have been dismissed as utterly impracticable by the politicians of all parties. But today Wisconsin has two senators who come from Madison, and it is hard to remember when the matter was commented upon, not to mention criticized.

There used to be worries about ticket representation of national origins and their ethnic associations. Who worries about such matters today? Perhaps an occasional political reporter, scanning the results and reflecting about them — after the votes are counted. There used to be the rule that a farmer had to be on the ticket somewhere. Who ever worries about that nowadays?

OTHER IDENTITIES

When John W. Reynolds was a boy, traipsing around the state with his father during political campaigns, there was an unwritten rule that Protestants made the most acceptable candidates in Wisconsin, and surely for the major offices.

Reporters of reasonable seniority can remember a Republican state convention not so long ago when there was considerable tongue wagging because the convention had nominated for the chief offices on that year's ballot men who were Roman Catholics, and the party was led by a chairman who professed the same church affiliation. As it turned out, one of the candidates lost the election, but for demonstrably other reasons than his church preference.

Today Gov. Reynolds sits in the governor's chair at Madison, the first Roman Catholic ever to occupy it. So little comment has been occasioned by the fact that there will doubtless be many voters who hear about it for the first time as they read these paragraphs.

Mr. Reynolds, moreover, leads a party which has as its organization chairman an Irish Catholic, as its national committeeman a Jew, and its national committeewoman a representative of the Negroes who are among the tiniest of the ethnic minorities of the state. Few could have imagined such political leadership identity only a generation ago. Yet is a fact and a successful fact. It is suggestive, at the least, that the old assumptions about the disabilities of divorce for the public man may be modified also.

Changing Thinking Most Difficult Task

BY SYDNEY J. HARRIS

In my recent piece on "left-handed thinking," which dealt with our resistance to changes of thought, I mentioned the hard time given to new ideas in science, from Harvey on the circulation of the blood to Freud on the role of the unconscious.

We might expect that Freud would be bitterly opposed, because he, after all, dragged into the light the repressed sexual conflicts of people, and outraged the social conventions as well as the medical convictions of his age.

But why should people — and the medical profession as much as anyone — have objected to William Harvey's discovery of the circulation of the blood? His investigations did not embarrass "morality," nor did his theory have any theological or philosophical consequences, as Darwin's did a few centuries later.

Nevertheless, Harvey could hardly find the courage to publish his results, even after many years of dissecting no fewer than 80 species of animals, including reptiles, crustaceans and insects. When he finally published, he dedicated the book to King Charles, hoping it would receive a more sympathetic hearing — and in the dedication compared the King and the realm to the heart and the body.

It seems almost incredible, but Harvey confided in a letter to a colleague that his theory on the quantity and the source of blood: "... is of so novel and unheard-of character that I not only fear injury to myself from the envy of a few, but I tremble lest I have mankind at large for my enemies — so much do habit and custom, that become as another nature, and doctrine once sown and that hath struck deep root, and respect for antiquity, influence all men; still the die is cast, and my trust is in my love of truth, and the candor that inheres in cultivated minds."

As Prof. W. I. B. Beveridge remarks: "His fears were well founded for he was subjected to derision and abuse and his practice suffered badly. Only after a struggle of 20 years did the circulation of the blood become generally accepted."

The human race, it seems, cannot be reminded too often and too forcibly that our thought processes tend to grow mechanical and habit-forming; that anyone who dares to challenge these processes becomes abused, ridiculed, feared and finally hated. It is worth suffering a thousand crack-pots rather than close our ears to one true genius who calls into question our fondest beliefs.

Potomac Fever — by Fletcher Knebel

Gordon Cooper managed his re-entry from space so accurately, the White House may schedule the next astronaut splash for Bob Kennedy's swimming pool.

One fellow admits he's prejudiced on this race question. He doesn't care much for either whites or Negroes.

Next time we hold one of these Civil War anniversary celebrations, let's use a little less live ammunition.

Some of these pesticides are powerful. One fellow put some bug-killer on his lawn. The lawn's okay, but the house dissolved.

Q—How did they pick the spot where astronaut Gordon Cooper would land? A—At his request. He said any place but Birmingham.

One congressman is sore. His new opponent, instead of referring to him as "the incumbent," insists on calling him "the recumbent."

4.5 Mile Railroad Spur Purchased by Museum

NORTH FREEDOM — A 4.5-mile standard gauge railroad for abandonment had been purchased by the state Public Service Commission early this year. The Chicago and North Western Railway System for an operating railway equipment museum. The open end passenger coaches, Mid-Continent Railway Historical Society completed arrangements for the railroad after a petition for abandonment had been granted by the state Public Service Commission early this year. The railway museum will feature an "old time train," with combination cars, and wooden cabooses, and will use steam locomotives exclusively. It will be the second year for the Museum's operating display train. In 1962 it operated over five miles of track at Hillsboro. At North Freedom the nine mile round trip will take approximately 45 minutes. Museum officials said.

The operating trackage, in the Baraboo River Valley, and only eight miles from the Circus World Museum and Devil's Lake State Park near Baraboo, will be known as the "Rattlesnake and Northern Line." Other items of non-operating railroad equipment will be on display in and around the museum trackage. The museum presently owns three steam locomotives, three coaches, two cabooses, and smaller pieces of equipment. Repair work on the equipment is done by the 150 members of the museum and historical group. The organization was founded in Milwaukee in 1959. Official opening of the train will be in June, with trains planned on weekends and daily until about September.

Appleton Lions Planning Annual Patrol Outing

The Appleton Lions Club will put on its annual picnic for school safety patrol members at Pierce Park Saturday. From 500 to 700 children are expected to attend. The program, beginning at 10:30 a. m., will include a juggling act by John Boettcher and a talk by Lt. John Gosch, Appleton traffic officer. Roger LaBerge, master of ceremonies, will conduct a community sing, with Vilas Gehring at the piano. At noon the Lions will serve a lunch of hot dogs, potato chips, ice cream and chocolate milk to the youngsters. The Lions Club supervises and puts on the picnic.

School Meeting
HORTONVILLE — The Home-School Association of SS. Peter and Paul Catholic School will hold its meeting Wednesday evening. The meeting was originally set last week. Election of officers will be held. which is paid for by the city. William W. Robertson is chairman.

Cracks in Corners

BY ROGER C. WHITMAN

Q The wall corners, on each side of the fireplace in our living room, repeatedly require repairs of cracks which reappear here. Is there any way to eliminate this condition? The walls are plaster.

A If, after proper cutting out and patching, cracks reappear in the corners of the wall, it is probable that the corners need reinforcing. Cut away about a six-inch wide strip of plaster on each side of the corner. Then fasten in place what is known as corner lath, and replaster. If your local dealer does not stock this, have him cut 12-inch wide strips of metal lath, then bend them at right angles; install them as above.

Q My son and his friends have acquired an old upright piano for use in their clubroom. They would like to repaint the piano to dress it up. What is the easiest way to do this?

A I assume the piano is of mahogany and has a dark color. If the finish is in fairly good condition, dull the gloss by rubbing lightly with "000" sandpaper. Then wash the surfaces with turpentine to remove dust, furniture polish or wax. Apply a stain sealer to prevent the mahogany stain from bleeding through the new paint. Finish with a good grade of enamel, either gloss or semigloss. To get a smooth finish, each coat, when hard and dry, should be rubbed carefully with "0000" sandpaper and all dust wiped off.

If the present finish (usually varnish) is in poor condition, remove it with paint remover, following label directions carefully. Then bleach out the stain with wood bleach according to instructions. Finish as desired.

Q Due to the settling process, we have spaces of about three-eighths of an inch between off to one-quarter of an inch or the marble sills and aluminum window sills. Our home is six years old and this space has been repeatedly filled with a caulking material, but it crumbles in a short time, creating an eyesore. The marble sills are set into plaster at each side of the window. Is there a way to permanently remedy this problem, short of tearing out the sills and resetting? (Spaces vary in each window; may be three-eighths of an inch on left side and taper off to one-quarter of an inch or less on right side.)

A Probable final and permanent correction would be as you suspect) resetting. But before such drastic action, try another type of caulking material, namely the type which is used to seal the gap between the top of the bathtub and the wall. This comes in a tube whose nozzle acts as an applicator. Advantage is that this type of caulking never actually dries out and also is relatively unaffected by expansion and contraction, as well as heat and cold. It is certainly worth trying, at least.

A Ladies Luncheon was held Saturday noon by members of the All Staters Couples Club. The 1 p.m. event, at which Miss Mary Beth Kuether, home economist with the Wisconsin Michigan Power Co., was guest speaker, took place at Alex's Supper Club. Visiting above are Mrs. Dean Lacore, Mrs. Mac Karpen and Mrs. Alphonse Bachhuber Jr., luncheon chairman. The group's next event will be a June picnic. (Post-Crescent Photo)

ANNOUNCING SECOND BABY

Dear Louise: We have just had our second baby and I am wondering if we did the right thing by sending birth announcements to friends and relatives who live out of town and had no other way of knowing about the new arrival. My father says we should not have sent them because they are just gift requests. We did receive gifts from all these people and I hope we didn't offend anyone. Louise Davis Answers: It is natural for parents of a new baby, even if it is a second. Easter, a casual phrase on greeting cards helps to avoid the obligation angle. Or the baby's name and date of birth could be included when listing the names of the senders such as, Joseph and Helen Brown, Bobby Brown and Sarah Elaine Brown (born March 12th).

proper to add such a postscript as, "Please don't send a gift." RING ON INDEX FINGER. If you have a third baby, you may wish to do a little pondering with your mailing list by finger. Is such a thing correct, eliminating the names of those who might be informed through the grapevine. When babies come down either to draw attention or a few weeks before Christmas or to rebel against convention.

Mental Health Investment More Needed Than Market

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Eve Jones: My 16-year-old does nothing all his free time except study market reports and plan what his father should do with his stock investments. He's very good at this, and my husband splits the profits with him. But I'm worried because I read that a person who is overly preoccupied with money is demonstrating neurotic tendencies. What should I do?

Mrs. C.D.N.

Does your son eat, sleep, and study well? Is he sensibly interested in girls and in normal competition with his friends? Is he free of any cleanliness rituals or toileting problems? Does he enjoy and get daily exercise after school? Is he usually physically healthy?

A "no" to any of these questions is an indication that he needs to spend some of his money getting a personal psychological appraisal to determine if he needs counseling help. The investment made today in good mental health will be the biggest pay-off he'll ever get, however long he continues his present interest in finances.

Dear Eve Jones: I don't feel sure my 9-year-old daughter is all right psychologically.

She's an average student, although the teacher says she could do better if she wanted to. She's well-liked by her play-mates and is very self-reliant and quite an extrovert. I like her ability to take care of herself, but at times I wish she still were more of a little girl. She's occasionally very warm and sweet to me, but is often very aloof and cold. And although she's very good at taking care of her hair and her appearance, she needs

Old Glasses Give Sight To Needy

Spring cleaning for charity? But it's true!

There's a volunteer, non-profit organization called New Eyes for the Needy, Inc., located in Short Hills, New Jersey, that you can assist just by cleaning out your bureau drawers and cupboards. New Eyes has been working for thirty years to improve the vision of the needy, the world over. They have helped a quarter of a million people, and have never solicited a penny. That's where spring cleaning comes into the picture.

New Eyes for the Needy wants your discarded eyeglasses, broken jewelry, false teeth with bits of gold or other precious metal scrap. New Eyes is presently receiving donated glasses at the rate of more than seven thousand pairs a week, but this is not enough to keep up with the many requests received for assistance. So, gather up your old glasses and broken bits of silver, gold, platinum, or even costume jewelry, and send them along to New Eyes for the Needy, Short Hills 3, New Jersey.

Need for Undershirt Strictly Depends on Point of View

BY ANN LANDERS

DEAR ANN LANDERS: If a woman arrives at her job in an office without an undershirt she is considered a cheap trollop. Yet a great many men, who are otherwise impeccably dressed, come to work without undershirts. Isn't this exactly the same thing?

My boss is a man in his 40's. He is handsome, a smart dresser and has excellent taste — in all areas except this one. The first thing he does when he comes to the office is shed his suit coat. There he sits, greeting important people from all over the world, both men and women — with no undershirt. To make matters worse, he wears expensive white silk shirts that you can see right through. I've mentioned this to a few colleagues and they look at me as if I have lost my marbles. What is your opinion? — Poor But Refined

Dear P: But R: Most men's shirts are made of oxford cloth or cotton. These fabrics are not transparent, so from an esthetic point of view an undershirt is not essential.

Silk shirts, however, call for an undershirt. And if your boss does not know it let's hope he reads this and takes the hint.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Many organizations are interested in the blind, and other handicapped groups, but few people are interested in the deaf. Perhaps it is because deaf people do not use crutches or have dogs to lead them. They look like everyone else.

I was saddened by a recent column in which a reader wrote, "Many states have no laws to protect the public against crippled, half-blind, senile, and deaf drivers." Obviously, the writer has no understanding of deaf drivers.

You may be interested to know that the U. S. government spent many thousands of dollars in February, 1962, to gather outstanding authorities in the field of education, social welfare and religion for the purpose of examining the status of deaf drivers. Safety experts as well as representatives of insurance companies were invited.

It was established that the accident rate for deaf drivers is lower than the accident rate for drivers with hearing. Deaf drivers are more careful because they realize they must be especially alert. They must see what they cannot hear.

I hope you will print this and set the record straight. — Rev. T.F.C. — International Catholic Deaf Association.

Dear Father: Thank you for writing. I am delighted to set the record straight.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Ours was a "must marriage." But my husband and I are deeply in love and it has made no difference in our feelings for each other. We had planned to be married in May, but when I learned I was pregnant we changed the date to February. The baby was born seven and a half months after we were married.

Our daughter is now three weeks old. What will I tell her when she is old enough to ask questions? I would hate for her to feel she was not wanted or that we had to hurry and marry because she was on the way.

Please tell me how to handle this question when it comes up. It has been on my mind for several months. — Worried and Upset

Dear W and U: Everyday I get at least one letter from someone who asks this question. I will tell you what I have told others. By the time your daughter is old enough to talk the calendar will be forgotten. That is unless you bring it up, which I hope you will not.

Celebrate your wedding anniversary any time you want to. It's strictly your own business.

To learn the knack of feeling comfortable with the opposite sex, send for Ann Landers' booklet, "How To Be Date Bait," enclosing with your request 20 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

In Reality, Calories Are Units of Measure

Did you ever taste a calorie? Or see one? Would you like to? Well, my lovely, just overeat for a while and a host of calories will become clearly visible to the eye. Bitter as can be to take! Sneaky and malicious as calories seem, their true character is much misunderstood. And the misunderstanding accounts for the majority of weight problems. In reality a calorie is a unit of measure. What it measures is the energy produced by foods, as they are converted to the body's use — 100 calories equals 100 units of energy.

2,200 Units
The average woman requires about 2,200 caloric units, daily, to keep her energy ticking. Taking in more units than the body can utilize for energy results in overweight. The unused food supply is stored as fat. Conversely there is a loss in weight when the calorie quota falls below normal. Then the body draws on its fatty stores to maintain the necessary energy level.

Viewed in that light would you say that the calorie or the lady controls the weight situation? For certain, the lady who strikes a balance between her calorie intake and her energy output is in the driver's seat.

She's on the road to beauty, what's more, if her diet strikes a nice balance of nutrients. For on it rests the quality of the hair, skin and health. In other words, as a woman eats so she is!

Notrump Principles Are Used

It's normal to watch your stoppers carefully at a notrump contract since the opponent's long suit is a very familiar danger. You must follow the same principles at a trump contract when your trumps look as though they may not last.

Declarer took the ace of diamonds, knocked out the ace of hearts, ruffed the diamond return, and drew the rest of the trumps ending in dummy. Then he led the queen of spades for a finesse.

West won with the king of spades and returned another diamond to punch out South's last trump. Now South could not set up the queen of clubs, for East saved the king of clubs and a diamond to defeat the contract.

South made his mistake when he started the spades after drawing trumps. The correct play is to tackle the clubs first.

Need One King
South must find one black king in East's hand to make the contract. If East has the king of spades, the spade finesse will work whether South takes it early or late.

If South leads a low club from dummy immediately after drawing trumps, East takes the king of clubs and leads a diamond to punch out South's last trump. Declarer leads a club to dummy's ace and tries the spade finesse. West wins with the king of spades but cannot lead a diamond. Now South is home. South makes the contract by following the notrump principle: Knock out the dangerous opponent's entry first.

If East has the king of spades, it is not an entry. If East has partner to show a major suit if the king of clubs, it is an entry. he can. You expect to raise either. Therefore South must knock out her three spades or three hearts the king of clubs before tackling to six. If partner bids three diamonds, denying a major suit, you will bid three hearts and look

Daily Question
Partner opens 2 NT (22 to 24 for slam in hearts or notrump, points), and the next player passes.
